

REFUSES TO CARRY "WAR GUILTY" LIST TO BERLIN

STERLING'S GREATEST DECLINE TODAY

Bottom Not Yet Reached In Slump of Foreign Moneys, the Bankers Say

GERMAN MARK FALLS TO NEW LOW RECORD

Weakness Threatens America's Export Trade, Says Senator Thomas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Destruction of America's export trade is threatened by the decline in foreign exchange, Senator Thomas declared in the senate today. He announced he will call up next week his resolution creating a commission to stabilize exchange.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The extreme weakness of foreign exchange which in the case of demand sterling fell to $2.20 at 12 p. m. today caused heavy selling on the stock and cotton exchanges. The stock market opened weak and most issues showed losses from yesterday's close. After a brief rally around 11 o'clock, prices again fell off to new low records.

Drop From Yesterday
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The greatest single drop demand sterling has taken since the present decline in foreign exchanges began was made today when the British pound opened at $3.27 1/4, off 5 1/2 cents from yesterday's close.

Bankers predicted that the bottom has not yet been reached in the slump of foreign moneys in exchange for American dollars and further declines today were expected.

In the first half hour sterling fell to $3.26 1/2.

Franc checks were 14.82 francs per dollar, off 20 centimes, and lire, 18.02 per dollar, off 52 centimes.

The German mark fell to a new low record at $0.103.

At the end of the first hour demand sterling was quoted at $3.24.

Collapse in exchanges brought trading virtually to a standstill in the forenoon, demand sterling falling to $3.23 1/2. Francs fell 18 centimes more to 15.00 and lire 13 to 17.15.

Cotton Prices Fall
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The cotton market broke sharply at the opening today, prices falling from two to eight points on first sales and then low the previous close, following the crash in foreign exchange. The only notable exception was May cotton, which was up 4 points at the opening.

J. F. FRANK GETS PATENT ON NEW TOY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—California patents recently granted include: Harold R. Basford, San Francisco, foldable bed; Daniel C. Davies, Pasadena, water-proofing compound; Robert W. Ebling, Oakland, assignor to A. W. Ebling Company, Inc., rheostat, also multiple circuit resistance control; Elvin Farnam, Los Angeles, scare crow; Johan P. Franke, Santa Ana, toy; Frank A. Gessell, San Francisco, controlling means for saving systems combined with insurance protection; Frederick W. Miller, Los Angeles, electric arc lamp; Eugene R. Murnighan, Glendale, can opener; John R. Richardson, Madera, method for constructing hollow walls of concrete; Harold J. Sankal, San Francisco, automatic air release; Philip Reidele, Los Angeles, bumper bracket holder; Barton W. Scott, San Jose, pump-pitting machine; Ellis L. Terrier, Los Angeles, folding ironing board; Elmer E. Wickersham, assignor to the Holt Mfg. Company, Stockton, self-laying track vehicle.

MAY QUASH INVESTIGATION
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Upon developments of today may depend whether Jack Dempsey must face a federal charge of avoiding the draft.

Mrs. Maxine Dempsey, his divorced wife, was to arrive today and go into conference with Assistant United States District Attorney Thomas. If her advance agents have the correct dope, she will say she is unable to substantiate her charge that Dempsey conspired with her to avoid the draft, and will say she was sore at Jack when she made those

Spurns Husband And Fortune On Eve Of Wedding

MAY GERTRUDE DEAN

16-Year-Old Miss Changes Her Mind After License Is Issued

CANTON, O., Feb. 4.—Miss May Gertrude Dean, 16, and pretty, is still single, despite recent plans for her marriage to William Bennet Hoffman, 31.

She had consented to the wedding, the license had been issued, and the minister summoned, when Miss Dean exercised her right to change her mind, and called off the ceremony.

Her action has puzzled friends and relatives, especially since her prospective husband has a fortune of $75,000.

PREMIER NITTI IS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR BALKAN PEACE

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Upon Premier Nitti rests future peace in the Balkans, a high Jugoslav declared in an interview here.

Jugoslavia has submitted her "last word" in the Adriatic dispute, the official said.

"It is Italy's next move," he added.

Denying reports from Italian sources that Jugoslavia is mobilizing her armies against Italy, the official said his country does not intend an offensive war in the Balkans even if the pact of London is enforced, which he considered unlikely.

Italian officials, on the other hand, expected a compromise. Nitti's proposals for settlement of the Italian-Jugoslav Adriatic dispute they characterized as "most liberal."

The "Fiume situation" they considered a "question mark."

SIX SUSPECTS HELD FOR ENRIGHT MURDER

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Michael Carozzo, president of the Street Cleaners Union, and five other suspects were held by the police here today in connection with the murder of Maurice ("Boss") Enright, labor leader and gunman, late yesterday.

Tim Murphy, labor leader, was arrested, but established an alibi. Enright was shot to death with a sawed-off shotgun.

Enright was convicted in 1911 of murder, but was unconditionally pardoned by Edward F. Dunne, then governor. He has been connected with the Plumbers' Union as business agent and secretary.

Only last year Enright was wounded in a gun fight following the clash of opposing factions at a meeting of the union.

Enright was wealthy. He was killed as he was driving up to the door of his residence late yesterday. His assailants escaped in a black automobile.

ISSUE SEMI-WEEKLY FAIR FOOD PRICES
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—An announcement was made today by Secretary Biernie of the Federal fair price committee that within the next three weeks the committee will be issuing a semi-weekly fair price list governing prices in Southern California cities for staple food commodities. The price fixing will be sweeping, Biernie said, and the margin of profit ranging from 2 to 10 per cent will be allowed dealers.

Shoe dealers will meet the fair price committee tomorrow to discuss conditions in the footwear business. An investigation will be made by the committee who will fix the margin of profit for shoe dealers. The clothing business will be taken up next.

QUARANTINE 1,000 HOMES IN L. A. FOR INFLUENZA

187 New Cases, Six Deaths, Today's Report from San Francisco

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—More than 1000 homes here are under quarantine for influenza, City Health Commissioner L. M. Powers announced today. Early today sixty-five new cases of influenza were reported and yesterday the new cases numbered 391. However, the death rate is low, only two persons having died from the malady yesterday.

The city council has appropriated an additional $10,000 to be used in fighting the epidemic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—New influenza cases reported today totaled 187. There were six deaths, Goat Island naval station has been closed to visitors and liberty was denied men in training because of the influenza epidemic.

Fear Hiccough Epidemic
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—An unusual number of cases of hiccoughs have been reported by physicians in the last few days. Scientists are at a loss to account for this, unless as an aftermath of influenza.

The latter malady seems to be rapidly disappearing, but Doctor Fowler, health officer of the district, is gravely concerned over the possibility of an epidemic of hiccoughs.

New York Record
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—More deaths from influenza and pneumonia were reported to the health department yesterday than on any day since the present epidemic began.

The deaths were 163 from influenza compared with 94 Monday and 184 from pneumonia. New cases of influenza totaled 3629, compared with 2673 Monday.

There were 550 new cases of pneumonia, an increase of 56.

Stockton Schools Closed
STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—The Stockton public schools were ordered closed for an indefinite period. The school board states that a fear of influenza has caused the absence of 1200 children and demoralization has resulted. Public teachers are reported ill and nine classes are without instructors.

Mild Cases in Alaska
KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Feb. 4.—Twenty cases of influenza in mild form were reported here, municipal authorities announced.

3 RELIEF WORKERS IN SYRIA KILLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Three American relief workers have been murdered by brigands in Syria, according to a dispatch received today by the state department.

PLANNED TO COMPLETE I. W. W. JURY TONIGHT

GRAYS HARBOR COURTHOUSE, MONTESANO, Wash., Feb. 4.—The jury to try the 11 alleged I. W. W. charged with murdering American Legion men at Centralia on Armistice day may be completed before court adjourns tonight.

If this is accomplished, the two alternate jurors probably will be chosen tomorrow. This would leave the way clear for Prosecutor Herman Allen's opening statement about Friday. Allen said today he believed this program would be followed out.

NEW IS SAN QUENTIN PRISONER NO. 33,406

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Feb. 4.—Harry New, reputed son of United States Senator New of Indiana, today is prisoner 33,406 in San Quentin penitentiary.

Shackled to a thug, New was led into the institution late yesterday. His mother, Mrs. Lillian Burger, had accompanied him to the gates. There was a touching scene when they parted. Tears filled the eyes of both as they kissed each other goodbye. Mrs. Burger said she has decided to make Oakland her home so that she can be near Harry.

Once inside, New was photographed and his fingerprints taken. Then his hair was clipped and he was fitted out in a regulation prison uniform.

Mrs. Burger later called on Warden Johnston and begged him not to place the youth in the juve mill. "His lungs are weak and unless he gets good care, he'll die," she said.

New was convicted of the murder of his 15 year old sweetheart, Frieda Lesser. His term is from ten years to life.

Sedition Laws Necessary to Combat Radicals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Sedition legislation is necessary to combat "a condition of revolutionary intent in the country on the part of both aliens and citizens," Attorney General Palmer told the house judiciary committee today.

Palmer, outlining his position on the proposed legislation, supported the Davesy bill and opposed the Sterling and Graham bills, which have already been rejected by house leaders. He also answered the arguments of those who oppose all sedition legislation and read extracts from "Red" pamphlets threatening revolution and murder of public officials.

RATIFICATION OF TREATY WITHIN TWO WEEKS, G. O. P. PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Treaty ratification within two weeks after next Monday is the plan of Republican leaders of the senate. They are prepared to adopt clotures if necessary to bring it about. Democratic assistance in the passage of an amended cloture rule has been promised. The word has gone out that there is to be no repetition of the long debate that marked the treaty's former course through the senate.

The imperative necessity of passing a certain amount of legislation is the reason. Fourteen appropriation bills must be enacted by June 30. The railroad bill is coming from the conference in a few days. It must be enacted by March 1 when the railroads go back to their owners.

ACTRESS SWEARS TO BATTERY COMPLAINT

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 4.—Peggy English, an actress, playing with a company at the Rialto Theater, Ocean Park, left the hospital here, after having been treated for slight injuries which she alleges she received from Mrs. Bell Harris, also a member of the troupe.

Miss English was found unconscious on the sand after the performance last night. She said that Mrs. Harris was jealous of her because she imagined that Miss English was "too interested in her husband."

Miss English swore to a complaint charging Mrs. Harris with assault and battery. When the Harris woman was brought to the police station later she was not able to produce bond and is being held in the city jail to await a preliminary hearing.

URGES IMPORTATION OF CHINESE COOLIES

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 4.—Julian DeCordova, multi-million manufacturer of Boston, made a strong appeal to the Commercial Club urging the importation of 500,000 Chinese coolies as a solution to the high cost of living and labor problems which confront the Coast.

"If you people of the Pacific Coast will do this you will check the Japanese menace, and secure abundance of labor to harvest your crops, cheap labor that will result in forcing down the cost of the necessities of life. Bring over the Chinese in large numbers on a three years' contract and before their industry, Japanese will disappear and cost of living will drop."

PORTERVILLE FORMS UNION H. S. DISTRICT

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 4.—By unanimous vote the Board of Supervisors passed resolutions creating the enlarged Porterville Union High school district, comprising ten additional grammar school districts with an area of nearly 100 square miles, having nearly 7,000,000 assessed valuation of property and making of it, in territory, the largest union district in rural California.

Under the new administration of the district, in which members of the Board of Education will be elected at large, it is proposed to erect a new union high school building, which will be second to none in point of equipment in Central California and provide a junior college course of study. Steps for this expansion are to be taken without delay.

WILSON IS OUTDOORS DESPITE HAIL STORM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Despite a hail and wind storm, President Wilson sat on the south porch of the White House in his wheel chair today.

DEMPEY TO HAVE CHANCE TO CLEAR HIMSELF

Boxing Board to Sit In Judgment; Mrs. Dempsey Renounces Her Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Maxine Dempsey today presented an affidavit to Assistant U. S. District Attorney Thomas in which she declared that Jack Dempsey, her divorced husband, is not a slacker.

The affidavit says, in part: "I am very sorry and regret very much that I have said or done anything to injure the reputation of Jack Dempsey. At no time did he try to avoid the war, and he is not a slacker."

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Jack Dempsey, world heavyweight champion, will be given a chance to clear himself of "draft dodging charges."

The Army, Navy and Civilian board of boxing control, to whom the champion appealed for a hearing, has reconsidered its previous decision to remain out of the controversy over his war record and will sit in judgment on the case February 11.

The committee, acting as a court, is to consist of Alfred L. Marilley, counsel to the board; chairman, Major A. J. Drexel-Biddle; Gutson Borglum, the sculptor; Dr. Joseph E. Raycraft of Princeton, former head of army athletics; Robert Edgren, former sporting editor of the New York World; John S. Smith, chairman of the New Jersey State Boxing Commission; Roswell F. Easton, R. Breckenridge Steele, and Adam Empey.

The committee today wired Jack Kears, manager of the champion, of its decision, and it was thought that Dempsey might attend the hearing in person as in making the appeal he expressed willingness either to appear personally or file an answer to any questionnaire submitted.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, member of the committee of the International Sporting Club, was asked to sit on the court, but the socialist hearing now before the legislature made it impossible for him to accept.

On January 23 Dempsey wired an appeal to the board as a body of thorough and honorable sportsmen, whose aim has always been justice and fairness in a square deal for all, to investigate this matter thoroughly, and if I am innocent of the charge of "draft dodger" clear me publicly before the world, and if I am guilty, condemn me."

MANY OFFICES ARE TO BE FILLED ON NOV. 2

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—J. M. Cremin, election statistician in the office of Secretary of State Frank Jordan, has announced the offices to be voted on at the general election November 2, 1920. The primary election will be held August 31.

The offices to be filled follow: Eleven Congressional Representatives, one from each Congressional District.

One Justice of the State Supreme Court (short term).

Twenty State Senators, one from each even numbered Senatorial district.

Delegates to State Convention from even numbered Senatorial districts by each party not represented by hold over Senator.

Eighty Assemblymen, one from each Assembly district.

Presiding Justice, Court of Appeal, First district, Division 1 (short term).

Presiding Justice, Court of Appeal, First district, Division 2.

Two Associate Justices, Court of Appeal, First district, Division 2.

Second district, Division 2.

Two Associate Justices, Court of Appeal, Second district, Division 2.

Judges of the Superior Court and certain non-partisan offices in the several counties.

SETS KIDNAPER RECORD
PASADENA, Feb. 4.—Ralph Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burns, 373 Waldo street, claims the "kiddie car" endurance record of the world.

Ralph disappeared and several hours later was found in Alhambra, five miles from home. He had traveled the entire distance on his pushmobile. His identity was discovered when he was nearly run into by an automobile in Alhambra. He was not running away, merely enjoying himself, he explained to his parents today.

Pretty Miss Is 'Fairy Godmother' to Shopgirls

Edith Day Gives Numerous Entertainments for New York Store Workers

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Miss Edith Day has earned for herself the title of "Fairy Godmother" of the New York shopgirls, because of her numerous entertainments for them.

Just at present, Miss Day is planning several performances of "Irene," the vehicle she is starring in, and no one will be invited but girls who work, or, as they say it in New York, those who "go to business."

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Eight cars oranges and no lemons sold today. Oranges strong, 25 to 50 cents higher. Averages, $3.55 to $6.79. Highest price, 14 boxes, Hearts, $7.20. Snowing. Temperature, 8 a. m., 27.

PASADENA, Feb. 4.—William McGinnis was killed and nine men seriously injured at noon today when the army truck in which they were riding overturned near Mount Wilson. All in the truck were soldiers stationed at Ross field balloon school at Arcadia. It is believed the driver lost control of the truck on a sharp curve. The machine ran down an embankment.

START NEW COLLEGE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—A College of Commerce and Business Administration soon will be organized at the University of Southern California, Professors Rockwell D. Hunt and Oliver J. Marston, both of the department of economics, announce. It will be the tenth college of the local university, and every effort will be made to make it one of the best of its kind. Courses in accounting, salesmanship, secretarial work and other business courses will be offered. It is the plan to open a night school in connection with this college next fall. The second U. S. semester begins next Monday.

HUNT HOLD-UPS WHO ROBBED FIVE AUTOS

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 4.—Police are today seeking four armed hold-up men who stopped and held up the occupants of five automobiles on the San Diego-Los Angeles highway late last night. From $15 to $70 was taken from each auto party. The police were notified but the auto bandits made their escape.

BOY IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY CHUM'S GUN

OGDEN, Utah, Feb. 4.—Thinking Wayne Butler, 14, had fainted, Ivan Nix and Terry Burns, both 13, swam the Ogden river with the limp body to get aid.

But Wayne was dead. He had been killed by a bullet from Nix's gun which was accidentally discharged when Nix raised it to shoot at a bird.

THREE SUFFOCATED BY SMOKE AS FIRE DAMAGES N. Y. HOME

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Mrs. W. Forbes, Jr., wife of a New York broker, and her two daughters, Barbara, 14, and Ellen, 10, perished early today in a fire that partially destroyed the Morgan home.

After firemen had extinguished the fire they found the body of Mrs. Morgan where she had fallen at the top of a flight of stairs.

In a bathroom they found Ellen's body, hanging across the edge of the bath tub. They had been overcome by smoke while trying to reach an open window.

In an adjoining room lay Barbara, also suffocated.

INTOXICATED DRIVER TO JAIL, SIX MONTHS

VENTURA, Feb. 4.—"A man who drives an automobile while intoxicated is as dangerous as a man who takes a gun out on the street and begins shooting, and is entitled to no more consideration," said Superior Judge Rogers to Arthur L. Smith when the Judge revoked Smith's probation and sentenced him to six months in the county jail and a fine of $500. Evidence showed that he had violated his probation by drinking and going to San Francisco without permission.

VENICE TALKS ELECTION

VENICE, Feb. 4.—Ambitious office-seekers and their friends are beginning to spread propaganda pertaining to the coming municipal election in this city. In April the voters of Venice will select two trustees, a city clerk and a city treasurer. John G. Harrah and Edward A. Gerety are the trustees whose terms of office will expire. Thomas H. Hanna is the retiring city clerk and James A. Peasgood is the retiring city treasurer. Though they have made no formal announcement, it is well known that the present incumbents of office will seek re-election.

JOE CRAWL TO WED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—Joe Crail, twin brother of Superior Judge Charles Crail—attorney, widely known Republican and executive of the G. O. P. in Southern California, will marry Miss Gladys Schmidt, a belle of the San Francisco Bay region, next Tuesday evening at the home of the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of 1541 Henry street, Berkeley.

HUN BARON OUTFITS JOB TO AVOID CHARGE

Kurt von Lersner Declines to Transmit Ally List and Note

PAPERS RETURNED TO FRENCH OFFICIALS

Allies Feel It's Personal; Have Other Means for Sending Note

PARIS, Feb. 4.—Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation here, refused today to transmit to Berlin the Allied list of persons guilty of war crimes and the accompanying covering note.

He returned the list and the note to the French foreign office and notified it of his resignation as president of the German peace delegation.

Following von Lersner's action the French foreign office stated it regarded his procedure as purely a personal affair and expressed the belief that it was not the result of instructions from Berlin.

It was stated further that the foreign office felt that the Allies have other means of transmitting the list and the note to Berlin, other than through von Lersner.

The note was presented to von Lersner late yesterday with the list of accused Teutons including many of her most prominent generals. It followed receipt of a note from Berlin asking moderation of the clause in the peace treaty demanding surrender of the German war guilty, on grounds their surrender would cause an internal crisis, possibly endangering the government.

GETTING JURY TO TRY DEPORTERS

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 4.—Although approximately fifty talesmen have been examined in the trial of the Bisbee deportation and kidnapping cases, neither side has shown its hand definitely. Examination of jurors moved swiftly today. When noon recess was taken, twelve temporary jurors had been secured, making one half of the required number.

The first panel had been exhausted at that time. A new panel which deputized secured in all-night trip over mountains and through the desert, will be in court this afternoon.

BY M. D. TRACY, United Press Staff Correspondent

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 4.—The process of choosing jurors to try the big Bisbee deportation case, which is proceeding more rapidly than was expected, has brought into clear relief the western spirit of fair play and straightforwardness seldom seen in metropolitan courts.

Ideas are expressed freely in the courtroom.

"Do you believe in strikes?" William Riggs, cow man, was asked.

"Cowboys don't strike; they quit and get out. Or, sometimes, their pay stops," said Riggs.

"Frank Berg, a rancher, was asked whether he knew a man named Eastburn."

"Oh, I think he was the fellow who jumped me for voting the republican ticket," said Berg.

Amos Grotton, who said he was a "general tinker" at Douglas, expounded at length on the subject of fair play. "Now, I wouldn't strike if I thought a lot of women and babies and other folks were going to suffer if I quit work," he philosophized.

Frank J. Brown, who said he was a janitor of the Bank of Wilcox, was asked whether he knew any reason why he should not serve on the jury.

"I sure do," he answered. "The pay isn't enough for the responsibility of the job."

AMERICAN MINISTER SPEAKS

ROME, Feb. 4.—The American minister at Belgrade assured a crowd of demonstrators there that the Adriatic question will be settled according to Jugoslav aspirations, the Messagero's Zara correspondent telegraphed today.

The minister spoke after a great demonstration against Italy, the correspondent said. Dr. Bianchini thanked the American official.

Garbage Cans Must Have Tops And Must Be Cleaned
The city ordinance regulating the manner in which householders may have their garbage hailed away is to be strictly enforced commencing this week.
For some time residents have been getting careless. Tops to cans have been lost, and cans have not been kept clean. The garbage collectors up to the time the city took over the work were the worst offenders against the garbage can. Cans were handled roughly. If a top dropped in the alley, there it was left to be run over and smashed.
The city collectors are going to show great respect for the garbage can. It will be handled carefully.
"Each garbage can must be washed out by the householder after it is emptied by the city."
"Householders must see to it that garbage cans are washed out after each emptying," said W. W. Chandler, sanitary inspector. "The cans must be provided with tops. The garbage will be collected regularly."

NEWS NOTES

ORANGE, Feb. 4.—One of the most beautifully appointed and daintily served luncheons ever given in Orange was that at the Woman's club, when eighty-seven members and guests assembled at noon and enjoyed a four-course luncheon which was served at small tables, artificially set with fine linen and crystal baskets of violets. The stage of the club room was banked with ferns, the windows latticed with smilax with two crystal candle sticks holding violet candles in each window, and with the soft shaded lights the scene was a veritable fairyland. At the close of the luncheon, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of Los Angeles gave a talk on Serbian Relief, followed by a piano solo. "Lucia di Lammermoore," arranged by Sidney Smith, played by Mrs. Fred Grote.
Mrs. Carl Pister gave two vocal selections, "Until," by Sanderson and "Who Knows," by Griton. After a Mazurka, by Lefchetzky, played by Miss Emma Claypool and a short business session, the balance of the afternoon was spent getting acquainted.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thompson of Villa Park entertained with an informal dinner party in honor of their house guest, Charles L. Thomson of New York city, who is touring Southern California, speaking for the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions. The other guests of honor were Rev. and Mrs. Jones, and daughter, Margery, and son, Donald, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Billingsley.

Thursday is the all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, another opportunity to be sociable and useful at the same time. The members are asked not to forget the articles for the layettes. The following ladies are on the committee: Mrs. J. F.
Keller, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. C. S. Parker, Mrs. Cole and Mrs. D. F. Campbell.

Mrs. Storum, living at the corner of Palmyra and Cambridge, was assisted in celebrating her eightieth birthday when neighbors and old friends called during the afternoon, bringing gifts of jelly, fruit and flowers, and wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Fred Volberding and daughter, Helen, are expected home after spending the past five months in the East with relatives.

HOLLEY WINS DECISION.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—Buck Holley, of San Francisco, won the decision from Mike Doll, local 145 pounder, in the main event at the Vernon four round show last night.
Danny Edwards, Oakland negro bantam, lost a decision to Benny Mc-Coy.
Ted Schneider, champion of Camp Kearney, beat Bob Grant, heavyweight champion of the Pacific fleet.

HOLINESS, SUBJECT OF HILL'S SERMON

Evangelist Dave Hill gave a most lucid Bible reading at the First Methodist Church last night, and held the interest of those who attended for over an hour. A good crowd gathered for the meeting despite the rain, and all were well repaid for their attendance.
The evangelist spoke on the ideas of holiness that have pestered, and those that have blessed the church and the world; and asked the question, "What kind of a man ought a man to be who asks the third person of the blessed trinity to come in to his heart?" And answered it by saying, "He ought to be a holy man.
The kind of man who would honor and glorify Jesus, and not the kind of man who would dishonor him."
"This man would seek to get rid of the things that do not glorify God.
The kind of man who glorifies Christ, is the man with a pure heart filled with God's kind of love. We all have the love that relates us to our kind, in the lodge, and in the political party; but God's kind of love is the love that relates one to his enemies through divine affection."
"Without this love, we would never get beyond cliques, and limited fraternities. But God calls for a brotherhood on the basis of his love shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit. God would like to put that love on dress parade in the lives of men. This love makes men that they do not live to profit off the world, but they are of much lasting profit to the world."
The evangelist will preach again tonight, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright will sing and have charge of the music.

COL. D. T. PERKINS DIES
SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 4.—Col.
David Tod Perkins, well known in Los Angeles and Pasadena, died suddenly at the Ambassador Hotel here of heart failure. With him were his wife, brother, C. E. Perkins of Akron, O., and the latter's wife. Col. Perkins' death came almost without warning, though he had been complaining of feeling ill for several days.

Brimful of Clean Fun, Popular Song Hits, With Large Chorus

"My Honolulu Girl," a musical comedy of distinction, filled to the brim with clean comedy, popular song hits and refreshing lines and portrayed by a remarkably capable cast, will be the attraction at the Yost Theatre Friday, February 6.
Norman Friedenwald, the producer, is very proud of the attraction and says it is the best he has ever offered to a discriminating public. He has dressed it without regard to expense and has fitted into the various parts a company of principals, including Eddie-Lew Kramer, "Billie" Emerson, Kathryn
Purtell, Madeline LaFere, Thadd
DeMonico, and others.
The chorus is a large one, numerically speaking, and the girls are really charming. There are lots of girls in the company—big girls, little girls, pretty girls, chic girls, graceful girls, brown-haired girls, girls with titian locks, girls with hair as black as the raven's wing.
There are girls, college girls, college girls, and girls that can sing and dance.
"My Honolulu Girl" is quite a puzle to the audience from the opening scene until everything is straightened out in the very last act. The scenic venture is superb and an entire car is used to transport the numerous sets.

REDLANDS BUMPS POMONA CLAREMONT, Feb. 4.—Redlands' quintet invaded Claremont last night and carried off the long end of a 30 to 23 score in a conference basketball game with Pomona college. Ross starred for the victors, while Taylor was high man for the Sage hens.

POETS TRAMPLE THROOP
WHITTIER, Feb. 4.—Whittier college basketball team conquered the Throop five here last night by a score of 39 to 7. Jackson and Kim-ber were the chief score gainers for the Quakers, while Larson was foremost player for the Engineers.

NEW KIND OF FIGHT
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 4.—For the purpose of reducing the number of "gold widows" in Sacramento, Herman Davis, local merchant, has offered a silver trophy to be contested for by man and wife.

DEATH THREATENS BIRDS
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 4.—
Death by starvation and exposure threatens the lives of thousands of birds in this state, according to Carlos Avery, state game commissioner. Deep snows and severe cold have already killed hundreds, he said.

CHICAGO BECOMES SIZABLE CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Chicago's population will approach 3,500,000, according to the estimate today. Of the 2200 enumerators, 1300 have turned their books over to John J.
Gaynor. These books show an increase of 100 per cent in many districts over 1910.

MODEL SUBMARINE CARNIVAL FEATURE

Although nearly everybody in this community has seen pictures of submarines so frequently that the mind is readily impressed with what a submarine is like, possibly none have ever seen one of the diving terrors of the sea. However, the opportunity to see and study an under-sea boat at close range will be offered when Clarence A. Wortham's world's best shows visit this city for the week of Feb. 10, under the auspices of the Santa Ana American Legion post.
The submarine with the Wortham shows is one of the most wonderful pieces of machinery ever put together. It is a submarine in miniature, as well as in fact. Four years ago Harry Hargraves, a mechanical genius of Los Angeles, California, became interested in the intricate mechanism of the submarine, and also its natural philosophy.
He set to work to build a working model of the Holland submarine or that used in the United States navy.
Getting the drawings of its hundreds of parts from the patent office at Washington he went to work. After expending two years and forty-eight hundred dollars in cash, he surprised naval constructors by showing a perfectly working model submarine which works as if it was manned by a full crew.
The submarine creates no end of talk wherever seen. It is ten and one half feet long and weighs eleven hundred pounds. It is five feet in height and is driven by a storage battery. The U-boat operates in a huge tank of water twenty-one feet in diameter and four feet deep. At the turn of a switch button the submarine leaves its dock, cruises three times around the tank, comes to a full stop, submerges, fires a torpedo, rises to the surface, fires a deck gun and raises its flag, signaling that it is coming into port.
By mechanics and marine constructors the automatic model is declared to be absolutely perfect.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. E. E. COOLEY Impressive funeral services were held for Mrs. E. E. Cooley Monday afternoon at the Mills & Winbiger Mission Funeral Home, being conducted by Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church.
The large number of floral contributions attested the friendship of a host of people in Santa Ana who had known and respected the decedent in life. Rev. J. A. Stevenson spoke beautifully of the mother and the sacrifices she had made for her children, rearing them to be substantial men and women. She was a devoted mother and wife and her family and her home were her life.
With Mrs. Albert Rohrs accompanying them on the piano, Mrs. A.
E. Koepsel and Mrs. Charles Sauer sang "No Night There" and "A Christian's Good Night."
The pallbearers were H. C. Dawes, Alex. McGilvary, W. E. Ward, F. W.
Eddy, W. H. Matthews and C. F. Mc-Dowell.
Mrs. Cooley was the wife of E. E.
Cooley and the mother of four daughters and three sons, all of whom are living but one daughter, who died in this city about seven years ago. The children surviving, all of whom were at the funeral, are Archie, San Bernardino; Glenn, Los Angeles; Floyd, Antelope Valley; Misses Inez and Alberta Cooley and Mrs. Elma Winbiger of Santa Ana.
Mrs. Cooley was born at Attica,
Ohio, 54 years ago, and was married March 25, 1888, to E. E. Cooley at Republic, Ohio. She died here on January 30, 1920, following a brief illness with pneumonia, her death being a great shock to her family and friends.

Brown's trip home was a pleasurable one

"My dear sister: I reached home a week ago after a delightful trip through the mountains. The scenes were beautiful and, thanks to my Kryptok Glasses, I could actually see them without being compelled to remove my glasses every time I looked up from my newspaper.

Kryptoks define near and far objects so clearly that I realize I didn't really see things before.

You're right, sister, eyesight efficiency is the most important of all. These Kryptoks add a whole lot to the force of a man's personality. My wife says they are becoming too, and that I look and act younger.

Our eyesight is our most precious possession—we cannot be too good to our eyes.

I want to thank you for recommending your optometrist, Dr. Wilcox, 106 E. 4th, to me, because he certainly was thorough in his examination of my eyes and accurate in his fitting of my Kryptoks.

He laughed when I told him of the way you commented on my awkwardness in putting on my glasses to read and removing them to see off at any distance. He said you were even more clumsy than I, before you wore Kryptoks.

Sincerely
Ben."

SKELTON FOUND AT BOLSA TODAY

While digging for some concrete work in an irrigation ditch in a field near the west end of the pavement passing through Bolsa, Arthur Lobo uncovered a man's skeleton. He covered the bones, and today notified Constable Elliott.

A. E. Koepsel, deputy coroner, will make an investigation today. Lobo said the bones were about two feet below the bottom of the ditch.

The bones may be old Indian bones. In a field not far from that point, a few years ago, several skeletons were plowed up.

TAKING EVIDENCE IN CLIFFS ACTION

Today Judge Williams is taking evidence in the action brought by Mrs. Frank A. Phillips, owner of property on Laguna Cliffs, against the Laguna Beach Co. In this action the plaintiff seeks to restrain the defendant from selling property adjoining the edge of the cliffs. She alleges that when she bought her property it was represented that the front lots were reserved for park purposes. This morning letters and circulars used in the sale of property were introduced in evidence.

HAIR FALLING? HERE IS WHERE IT SHOWS

Don't Worry! Let "Danderine" Save Your Hair and Double Its Beauty

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Your hair will grow strong, thick and long and appear soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant. Try it!—Adv.

SERBIAN TAG DAY PLANNED FOR NEXT WEEK

S. J. Cornell, city chairman of the Serbian relief campaign, today is making plans for tag day in Santa Ana Friday and Saturday, Feb. 13 and 14. The drive in the sale of tags will be in the public schools on Friday and Saturday and the general public will be given opportunity to contribute to the fund by purchasing tags. It is hoped to dispose of 3000 tags.

The Girls' League of the high school and the Junior Red Cross will be responsible for seeing that everybody in Santa Ana is tagged. Miss Rita Daniels is in charge of the workers of the League and Miss Hazel Bemus will direct the Junior Red Cross members in their efforts.

The Serbians were one of the Allies of the United States in the World War and suffered heavy losses in man power and were driven from their homes and lands. They are an energetic people and are quickly recovering from the losses sustained through interruption of active production during the war. They are in need of immediate assistance and the campaign now being conducted throughout the United States is to bring them relief for only six months, by which time it is believed they will be in position to support themselves. They need clothing, something to eat, farm equipment—in fact they will have to be re-equipped throughout.

An appeal is made to everyone to support tag day, and those who feel that they would like to make a monthly contribution for a period of six months can do so by consulting S. J. Cornell for information as to where and how the pledges may be made.

The Serbians stopped at no sacrifice in defending the principles for which America entered the great war. The people of this nation have plenty and are suffering in no way. They are asked to bear this in mind and assist with their finances in saving the lives of thousands of Serbs who today are suffering for everyday necessities.

CITY ENTERS A BID
RIVERSIDE, Feb. 4.—When bids were opened for the improvement of nearly a mile of Magnolia avenue it was fully $3,000 lower than any decided to take a hand in the bidding. And the city's bid, $22,363, was fully $3,000 lower than any other submitted. Alarmed, apparently, at its success, in competition with bidders whose proposals ran as high as $28,445, the Council deferred action on the award of the contract for one week.

AUTO CLUB WILL FILE LICENSE APPLICATION

With autoists rushing in at the last moment with their licenses and some of them misunderstanding the method of procedure, the Orange County Branches of the Auto Club of Southern California are offering their services to all whether members of the club or not. Parties wishing to have the Santa Ana office or Fullerton office handle their applications for licenses may feel perfectly welcome to call at the offices. The business will be attended to without charge, and it may save time and confusion to the individual and Motor Vehicle department.

NEWS FOLKS EAT IN FURNITURE STORE

The Register news staff and members of the advertising and business force of the Register today were guests of W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., and R. L. Bisby at a luncheon served at the Spurgeon furniture store, with Miss Myrtle Robinson, demonstrator for the Beechnut Packing Company and the Globe Mills as the "power behind the throne."

Miss Robinson won the hearts of the newspaper people with the delicious viands prepared and offered for their discussion, and this afternoon the guests are pining for another "round" with the palatable and light biscuits offered as an "escort" for the fine roast beef, brown gravy, sweet potatoes and Orange county fresh sweet peas served. Beechnut jellies also were served.

Mrs. Robinson is here direct from Boston and cooked her first meal with Orange county natural gas today on a New Method gas range which the Spurgeon Furniture company is handling.

The guests know not whether she knows how to cook beans, but they do know that she is a real artist in the preparation of the character of edibles served.

Just across the street, at the Sutton meat market, Miss Edna Grant, representing the Pure Food Packing Co. of Long Beach, also is conducting a demonstration, and the salad for the occasion was contributed by her. It was kippered mackerel salad and "I'll say" it's all to the good.

The Sutton Market participated in the event by furnishing the roast beef and it was tender and juicy—a treat.

Miss Robinson is giving demonstrations daily at the Spurgeon store with a lecture in the afternoon, in which she gives advice in the use of foods and their preparation that will tend to reduce the high cost of living. The lectures and demonstrations are profitable to all who attend.

The meal was served on a large family table in stock at the furniture store and was appropriately decorated. Mrs. R. L. Bisby assisted in serving. Following is the menu:

MENU
Kipperd Mackerel Salad, ala Edna, Prime Roast Beef, Sutton Market, with Yorkshire Pudding, Sweet Potatoes, Glace; New Peas en Creme; Celery en Branch; Snow Pudding, Custard Sauce, Jaffee.

The following contribution by Mrs. Olive Lopez of the staff is a fitting ending to a story of a most delightful occasion:

What do you think of good eats, galore Served in the depths of a furniture store? Roast beef and salad, oh, so delicious Delighted the guests on this occasion auspicious.

The Register "bunch" all ready to eat Gave three cheers for Miss Robinson, the cook so neat, And said if "Uncle Bob" would "come again" They'd fall in most heartily with his plan.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the West End Improvements association was held yesterday and the old officers and board of directors were elected as follows: E. P. Nickey, president; A. C. Black, secretary; Mit Phillips, J. D. Parsons, Frank Heil, W. T. Bill and Mrs. Mary S. Rowley.

SWITCH OFF!

Put aside the Salts, Oil, Calomel, or Pills and take "Cascarets."

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure, and fresh with Cascarets, or merely whipping them into action every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Oil, or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets gently cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the colon and bowels all the constipated waste matter and poisons so you can straighten up.

Cascarets tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—no griping sick on, or cause any inconvenience, and cost so little, too.—Adv.

CANYON ROAD TO BE OPENED TO PUBLIC SOON

With today the last day for keeping the last half mile of the paving in Santa Ana canyon under water, it is expected that all barriers to canyon travel will be removed by the 21st of the month, and for the first time in many years it is believed the road will be open permanently and without prospect of having to be again closed in years for repairs.

It has been some years past since the canyon road has been free from obstructions throughout a whole year. The paving has been completed and when the road is thrown open it will be a paved highway throughout the canyon, connecting with the Riverside highway at the county line.

Permission will be asked of the supervisors to open the canyon to light traffic on Orange county day at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino, which comes on February 13, next Friday. The road probably will be kept open the following day. It will be open for these two days to light traffic only. No trucks will be permitted. The canyon still is closed to trucks, and those who attempt to make the drive in this class of vehicle come to grief regularly.

Yesterday an Ontario transfer man attempted to negotiate the canyon with a truck loaded with furniture. The proprietor will have some bill of damages to pay, for his machine went into the ditch and smashed up about half the furniture. The truck was badly damaged. He got into the "mess" yesterday morning and it was 8 o'clock last night before he got out.

The by-pass is in chalky soil and slippery. Loaded trucks cannot stick to the temporary road. Dirt on the stretch of pavement just completed by Contractor Steele Finley will be removed for Friday and Saturday of next week, if the supervisors give permission for its use, and one week from that time should see the road opened to all traffic.

THE REAL PERIL

An intelligent and patriotic newspaper editor, writing recently to a fellow-editor, gave vent to his feelings regarding "this hysteria we are now passing through," in a way that he did not feel free to do in his own paper.

"Censorship, espionage and propaganda," he wrote, "have done their work all too well in this country. They have proved handy tools for bigots and fools in official position. Americanism has now become Caesarism, imperialism and Prussianism. To suggest that America is big enough to be fair and generous is to call forth the charge that you are pro-German, or a Red, to intimate that we owe it to ourselves, if not to the accused, to see that Socialists and revolutionists are given a fair trial in our courts, as our constitution provides, is to make an everlasting enemy of your auditor. I find it impossible in my own office to make the most innocent remark that a few years ago would have passed without challenge or question. The public mind has slipped its moorings as a result of the war, and there is no knowing where it will drift upon the seas of confused thought and before the winds of hatred and bigotry."

"The very fact that any American editor, in the twentieth century, should fear to criticize his government is in itself the most damning corroboration of the charge I make. Criticism of his government has been, for more than 100 years, the American citizen's most prized right and pleasure; it was one of the greatest blessings bestowed by American citizenship, and was the one particular thing which made the American stand out from the German, the Russian or the Turk. Today, as a matter of solemn fact, the American citizen may of right, under the law, say less of his government than the citizen of any one of those countries."

"Could I write as I feel, I would sound a clarion call to real patriotism, and call upon the President to set right the confused thought of his fellow-citizens. But—it would not be printed, for the paradoxical reason that the very condition that made its writing necessary would forbid its publication."

Strong as this letter may sound, it is hardly an over-statement of the recent situation. There is probably more ground for hope, however, than the writer believes. There are signs at last that the American press, public and government are all awaking to the peril menacing American institutions today—which is not so much the Red danger as the danger of suppressing American liberty in the very excess of effort to suppress the Reds.

This newspaper is willing and glad to print the letter in question, and to endure whatever imputations of "un-Americanism" may be thrown at it for thus helping along the cause of real Americanism. There is evidence of similar spirit in many American papers today, and the public will surely be found responsive to the appeal.

As for the government, it is significant enough that Attorney-General Palmer has finally announced his opposition to the drastic sedition bills in the House and Senate. It would help much if the President himself would make a calm, clear public statement on the subject, as this editor suggests.

NO TARIFF BILL NOW

The present congress has given up the task of framing a new tariff bill. A number of reasons are given for the refusal to act upon this all-important measure, but two of them stand out as of real importance.

The ways and means committee of the House declares that any tariff bill prepared by this congress would be vetoed by the President, the implication being that the committee contemplated a measure embodying characteristically Republican tariff ideas, such as would naturally be objected to by a Democratic executive. A second and equally good reason is that the party leaders feel it would not be safe to go before the country at a general election standing upon any newly-completed tariff bill.

The second reason is very likely the real and deciding one. Tariff bills are always unsatisfactory and unpopular. Nobody is pleased, because out of the welter of conflicting local, commercial and industrial interests compromises are imperative, compromises that give nobody what he demands and leave bitterness that are not safe to take into a national campaign.

But aside from all its explanations, the fact is apparent that the present congress is neither able nor ready to consider any question of the magnitude that the tariff has now assumed. Economically the world is vastly disturbed, and the facts upon which a tariff bill must be based are not easily arrived at. The tariff commission has sent representatives to Europe and to Asia to get the facts, and has also been making a study of domestic production costs. It will probably be some months before the commission is ready to report to congress. When the report is made, however, the House will have at its command a vast array of informative statistics and memoranda upon which to build a tariff measure of a new kind. It will not be necessary to rely upon the claims and prejudices of those who seek to benefit most as a result of whatever bill is passed, as has been the custom for more than a generation. It will be solely up to the members themselves to say what kind of bill they shall adopt; and if they persist in following the old path, they will do it with their eyes open and with no reasonable expectation of public approval.

THE FLU

Recent reports show a rapid increase in the number of influenza cases in many places. It seems possible that before long it may really assume the proportions of an "epidemic."

Despite recent alarmist stories, however, the number of cases at present is far lower than it was at this time a year ago, and none of the doctors or health officers seem to have any notion that the disease is going to have any such sweep as it had last winter. The form, too, is much milder. In fact, it has been compared to the "old-fashioned influenza" familiar before the war rather than the world-scourge of the last two years.

It is a common thing, in communities where it has appeared, to hear a doctor say in an off-hand manner, after looking a patient over: "Oh, just a case of this flu that's going around—it seems to be milder this year." The "three-day flu" some doctors call it, from the fact that its period of prostration lasts only that long, and recovery, though taking several days more, is more rapid than the patients usually expect.

Last year there were two great dangers recognized in connection with the flu. When the crisis seemed past, it was likely to leave the heart dangerously weak, or to develop into pneumonia. Now there is little talk of heart trouble, and though pneumonia cases are rather alarmingly frequent, they seem to have much less connection with the flu—they are treated rather as independent diseases.

Preventive measures are about the same as those required always to ward off disease at this time of year. People should practice, more painstakingly than at any other time, the common rules of hygienic living. That means, of course, not doping themselves with medicine, but doing the simple, common-sense things that any intelligent man, woman or child, in this age of medical enlightenment, ought to be able to do without special instruction. It does not mean staying indoors and dodging the cold. It merely means keeping warm and dry, breathing plenty of fresh air, getting enough sleep, having enough physical exercise to keep the body strong and the blood red and the nerves quiet.

If these conditions are met, the germs, however thickly they are circulating around, are not so likely to get a foothold in one's system. If they do, and if they or any of their evil brethren make their presence known by any "respiratory trouble," such as a sudden violent "cold," or soreness of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or lungs, the thing to do is to go to bed and send for a doctor. It may be the flu—and it won't last long, or make any serious trouble, if you handle it right.

Go After It

New York Sun
We gain nothing by permitting a wrong to endure. All evil is destructive. The only good there is in evil is that it teaches us this truth. Then, if we combat the evil, good comes of it. Wrong always is destructive, right always is constructive.

Profit-gouging has become so general and so grievous an abuse, it is not too much to say if it is not checked and bridled for all time that it contains the seed of our dissolution. It has become the greatest foe of our prosperity and progress, the greatest enemy of production, of business and industry. We must put it down or it will put us down.

Presidential Publicity

Bakersfield Californian
Along with the announcement of the employment of a number of high-priced newspapermen to have charge of the publicity for a presidential candidate, who, it is known, is not rich in this world's goods, is the statement that a nation-wide intensive advertising campaign is to be inaugurated.

Not in a spirit of criticism, but through curiosity, we wonder where the money comes from to meet the expenses of such campaigns. The fund that will be required will be no small one—not a few thousands of dollars, but many, many thousands. It must have a source, and it would be interesting to know where that source is.

The law in most states, and in the nation, limits political parties and candidates in the matter of campaign expenditures. Probably it does not cover a nation-wide pre-convention campaign in behalf of a candidate. But just the same it would be most interesting to know the facts, the names and amounts of the donors, and their interest in the candidate they back so heavily.

The same question has been asked in connection with recent campaigns in California, but never answered.

Wasn't "Distinguished"

Miss American—"Why didn't they give you a distinguished service medal?"
The Veteran—"It seems mine wasn't a distinguished service."

More Light on Hoover Boom

For the information of its readers, The Register published, yesterday, the salient parts of several editorials from leading California newspapers endorsing the tentative candidacy of Herbert Hoover for president.

For the same purpose we publish herewith "the other side of the question," as given out by "The Republican Publicity Association" of Washington, D. C., through its president, the Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr.

Under the heading, "Hoover—the Modern Carpet-bagger" the Hon. Jonathan discourses as follows:

The serious mention of the name of Herbert Hoover as a presidential possibility is one of the unexplainable political phenomena with which the American voter is frequently regaled. Mr. Hoover was practically unheard of in this country until the European war furnished his vehicle of publicity. He did yeoman service in handling the Belgian relief work, and from his office in London came to America to supervise the production and distribution of our food supplies. Whether he executed that commission efficiently or not is beside the question. The fact remains that practically the only act of Mr. Hoover's life that identifies him with America is his work for the food commission.

In 1897, when Mr. Hoover was only 23 years old, he moved to Australia to engage in mining activities. In 1899 he removed to China and became the chief engineer of the Chinese Imperial Bureau of Mines. In that capacity he explored the interior of China, and in a short time became associated with private companies formed for the exploration of the mines of that country. For several years he resided in London and acted as director in a number of British corporations engaged in Asiatic development. A list of the concerns in which Mr. Hoover's interests are now centered sounds like quotations from the London Stock Exchange. For practically twenty years Mr. Hoover has concentrated his energies on the development of foreign properties. Deserting the country which gave him birth and an education, he went abroad and stayed there. Now when the emergency of war, rather than any voluntary desire on his part, has brought about his return to his native land, he seems to entertain the notion that the voters will select him to direct the destinies of the nation for the next four years. A more preposterous supposition could hardly be conceived. It is said that Col. House is ready to back Mr. Hoover. That fact alone should be enough to snuff out any hope of success that the rest of Hoover's friends may cherish. The country has had enough of Col. House and his clandestine and pussy-foot methods of doing things. Once it becomes known that he is actively working for the Hoover boom, no other candidate need have any fear from that source.

The New York World, after years of flattering laudation, suddenly discovers that Mr. Wilson is a "political accident," and indicates its willingness to work for Hoover. If throughout the seven years of his reign the World has been blind to the true character of the man in the White House, there is reason to believe that its present estimate of the qualities of Mr. Hoover may be open to question. Even the World is silent on the fundamentals of Mr. Hoover's faith. It describes him as a great administrator, which must be conceded, but a man of 45 who has spent the last twenty years of his life under the influences of foreign business thought, principally British, can hardly be considered as fitted to administer the American government.

The Democrats claim Mr. Hoover as a member of their party, but the fact is that no body knows to what political faith he belongs. Doubtless he has been in this country such a short time that he is still undecided what faction he will affiliate with, if any. He seems to be a sort of nondescript, somewhat of the type of Mr. Ford, willing to accept any and all support that will aid him in attaining his goal. But the American people will not stand for that sort of candidate a moment. The man who gets their votes is the true American, not afraid to extol his own country above every other in the world and to prove his words by living here and contributing his best to the upbuilding of our institutions. Carpetbaggers have no place in American campaigns.

For Good Measure

By the Editor

REAL HAPPINESS
To be truly happy is a question of how we begin and not of how we end; of what we want and not of what we have.
—STEVENS.

There is a Little Girl in this town whose Christian name sounds like, but isn't, Nannette, and whose surname sounds like Diggs, but is something else.

Yes, you've probably guessed it, but I don't care and neither will Little Girl or her folks. The only reason I don't tell her name right out is that I don't want to take any liberties.

Well, Little Girl likes company, and when neighbors or callers come in in the evening, after Little Girl has gone to bed, she has been known to make her appearance in the living room in her "nightie."

Now, while Little Girl is a vision of loveliness in her nightie, Mamma told her "You mustn't come into the living room, dear, in your 'nightie.'"

And lo and behold! the next time there were callers in the evening, Little Girl made her appearance without her nightie—or anything else. And of course she was lovelier than ever.

Can you think of anything sweeter or more than the innocence of literal obedience?

I wonder if Mamma scolded her, or shamed her, or if the company snickered. That might have happened in some families, but I don't think it did in Little Girl's family.

The innocence of childhood is a beautiful and a holy thing. Let us always be careful not to shame it, or make it self-conscious.

A bunch of fellows were talking the other day about the possessing of booze and just how effectively the prohibition law is enforced or enforceable.

One man, not given to talking through his hat, said:
"If you have the money—about $15 a quart—and know how to go about it; if you are like Caesar's wife, above suspicion, you can get all the whiskey you want right here in little old dry Santa Ana."
It seems incredible that anybody would pay $15 a quart for whiskey, and equally incredible that anybody would take the desperate chances of rotting in a Federal prison for the sake of making a few dirty dollars without working for them.

One of the Register's carrier boys down Harper way, Ray King, was most kindly remembered by the Register subscribers on his route at Christmas time, and one gift of fruits was accompanied by some verses which the little fellow wanted to have printed in the Register.

The manuscript was mislaid at the time, but he found it the other day, and here it is:

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO OUR REGISTER BOY

To the King of my heart, I bring a small part, of the fruits which are trusted with me. By the King of my soul, who has perfect control, of all we possess, there apart.

With your sunny bright smile my heart you beguile; That's why I wish you to know your service is fine in the Register line; No cause for complaint of you.

When people all find that it pays to be kind and true to our fellow man, There will be greater joy for many a dear boy, while trying to do all he can.

I would have you to know while here below, that in me you will find a true friend, with a word to encourage and that's to cherish and hope to help brighten the glad New Year.

Christmas greetings to Ray, from Mrs. Mealley Cleghorn.

Oh, when I am safe in my sylvan home,

At the sophist schools, and the learned clan;

When man in the bush with God may meet?

M. W. A. Meet at Fullerton

A large delegation of Santa Ana Modern Woodmen went to Fullerton last night and took a number of candidates over for initiation with the Fullerton club.

The work was put on by the Southern California M. W. A. Boosters' Association which includes members chosen from the several camps, each member taking some part in the degree team.

The Fullerton neighbors are to be congratulated on the manner they received the visitors last evening and for the fine banquet served.

The Modern Woodmen now have a membership of 1,050,000 beneficiary members and they are in a lively campaign to gain 200,000 new members in the next two years and they say they are going to have them.

This meeting in Fullerton is only one of many that will be held in the county in the future.

New Order to Install.

All Eastern Star members and Masons throughout the county are in-

Masonic hall at Anaheim tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, for the installation of the officers of the Liberty Court of the Amaranth, an order founded on Masonry and drawing its members from the Eastern Star chapters of the county.

As the local chapter has 400 members, Fullerton 200, Anaheim 200 and Yorba Linda and Orange are well represented, this county-wide organization promises to be an order boasting of a very large membership.

Two Santa Ana ladies will have the honor of holding offices in this new order. Mrs. H. C. Kellogg is elected to the office of Associate Conductress and Miss Martha Whitson is appointed Marshal.

Council No. 14 Meeting.

Pockets And Flare Hips Feature Spring Styles

Here are two sketches of late Parisian spring styles, drawn by Gertrude Epstein, professional style critic with Cleveland garment manufacturers. The house of Lanvin, a great French designer, is responsible for the first creation. This is a frock for street or office of navy tricolette, with a narrow black velvet belt, and huge pockets outlined with braid to match collar and cuffs. The second sketch is of a tailored spring suit, with a jacket decidedly flaring at the hips, and flat at back and front.
The skirt hangs straight and narrow.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB SEEKING MEMBERS

The Amateur Radio Club of Santa Ana held its regular weekly meeting at Room 35, 204½ East Fourth street.
The club has been formed to advance the radio art among the amateurs of Santa Ana and vicinity, and to encourage the keeping of government regulations. The club will help the amateurs to adopt some system, whereby interference among the many amateur stations that are starting up in the locality can be eliminated to a certain degree.

At each meeting, one of the members talks on one of the many subjects concerning radio telegraphy, after which the meeting is opened to general discussion.

The aim of these discussions is to enable the members to pass the tests for government first grade amateur licenses. Code practice is held at each meeting.

It is the desire of the club to have all amateur radio enthusiasts in Santa Ana and vicinity join, so that the organization can be made as strong as possible. All persons joining will be required to pass a five word per minute code test. Anyone who is interested or wishes to join should get in touch with one of the members.

The officers are: President, Knox Finley; secretary, Gilbert Dunstan; treasurer, Leo Church.
Other members are Malcolm Finley, Claude Hayward, Dwight Hamilton, Harry Farrar and Leon Gardiner.

Are Your Teeth Bothering You?

Nearly everybody has something the matter with the teeth, but keeps on postponing a visit to the dentist. Some people are afraid of pain, some afraid of the price, and some don't want to lose the time.

All these people should know about the Registered Dentists using the E. R. Parker System.

First, there is no fear of pain when dental work is done under the E. R. Parker System.

Second, the prices are moderate, and every patient is guaranteed full satisfaction.

Third, fewer visits are required, and out-of-town visitors are given special attention, so they need not call so often.

If your teeth are bothering you, remember that the longer you neglect them, the more you suffer and the more it will cost you in the end.

There are twenty-four E. R. Parker System offices in different cities, the nearest office being at 706 So. Broadway, L. A. Dr. Painless Parker.

NEED OF RELIEF FOR CHILDREN OF EUROPE PRESENTED TO LEAGUE

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of Los Angeles, in charge of gathering relief funds in Southern California, talked to the Girls' League yesterday morning.

How 500,000 little children walk the streets, clothed in newspapers, and how they go to bed every night and have gone to bed every night for four years, hungry, was told by the speaker, who urged the Girls' League as a body to do something for the cause for which she works so hard.

Though some people refuse to do anything for the sufferers in the afflicted countries of Europe because they believe that charity begins at home, Mrs. Rodman says that these people should be told that charity does not stop there, but spreads all over the world.

"Because our boys," said she, "fought side by side with the countries of Europe, the people of all nations are our brothers and they are not called 'neighbors' now as before the war."

What the different schools of Southern California have been doing and what is expected of Santa Ana High ended Mrs. Rodman's address, which was greatly appreciated, as the girls have waited a long time to hear her. Not very long ago she was scheduled to come here, but was unable to do so.

Installation of officers for the coming semester followed the address and all the officers, old and new, were called to the platform while the new ones took the oath of office. Miss Nellie Larson was the temporary chairman.

Miss Bernice Bull, retiring president, thanked the girls for their co-operation, and said that she had enjoyed her work for the league. Miss Grace Dickey, the new president, asked the girls to do their best to help her.

SOVIETS ASK TO REAL LOVE MATCH SAYS D'ALERIA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Soviet Russia today asked for opening of trade relations with the United States. The overtures were made by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, soviet representative, in a statement before the senate foreign relations subcommittee.

To Recognize Esthonia. LONDON, Feb. 4.—Soviet Russia agrees to give unreserved recognition of the independence of Esthonia under the terms of the peace agreement reached between the two nations, according to a dispatch from Reval.

The Russian soviet government also renounces all rights to sovereignty in Esthonian territories, the dispatch said. It outlines the peace agreement as follows: Both nations renounce any claim to indemnities.

Prisoners are to be repatriated quickly. Russia is to pay Esthonia 15,000,000 rubles in gold, but there will be customs charges between the nations.

Esthonia receives a concession to construct a railway to connect with the Moscow line at the Esthonian frontier and permission to purchase 2,500,000 acres of wood land.

Russia receives the right to electric power from the Narova river.

FUNERAL NOTICES The funeral services of Chauncey Morgan will be conducted tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Smith and Tutthill's chapel.

DORMITORIES FOR STANFORD WOMEN, PLAN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 4.—That equality does not exist on the Stanford Campus under present conditions was the statement made by President Ray Lyman Wilbur in an address to the Sorority Women of Stanford, explaining the details of the plan advocated in his annual report to place all Stanford women in dormitories.

He attributed this condition to the isolation of groups in sorority houses.

Dr. Wilbur declared it was their isolation and not the sororities that he was opposed to. He spoke of the university plan to house all students in dormitories which includes the building of athletic fields for women.

Dr. Wilbur said: "This scheme if successfully worked out will give the future Stanford women an opportunity to get acquainted with 500 other women, an advantage which is not enjoyed under conditions as they now exist. She will also enjoy unrivaled and equal advantages under the dormitory system."

Man's Golden Age Portland Oregonian

Many will be interested in Mr. Howell's conclusion that the "golden age of man is between 50 and 60." In the decade there is peace; material security has come if one has been prosperous; one has fairly learned one's trade or mastered one's art; one is not so much afraid of death as earlier, yet one likes joking as much as ever and loves beauty and truth as much. "It is a golden age, and no age after it is more than silver."

Yet the latter have their compensations. There is the pleasure, for example, of reading things over and over again. Within his 82d year he has read "Don Quixote" with as much zest as in his 12th year, and more recently Milton's "Lycidas" with as rich a woe as the first time. That much he has to say of the pleasures of the young-old, yet his most illuminating passage is that in which he gives counsel to younger men:

"The attitude of amaze in comparative youth at mere superannuation is one of the hardest things which the old have to bear from their juniors, far harder than Hamlet's mockery of Polonius. Every old man knows the truth about physical age, and it can only hurt him the more to be told that he is looking better than ever, to be forced to smirk in the acceptance or refusal of the false homage offered his years in the effort to discount them for him. Let us alone, I say, and we can bear our burden, do not add the weight of your gross kindness to it. We know that we have wonderful alleviations, and even advantages; we are at least not dead, and there we are at least equal with younger men."

SOVIETS ASK TO REAL LOVE MATCH SAYS D'ALERIA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—Can middle age mate with youth in a natural love marriage?

Mrs. Katherine Nixon, 50 years old, wealthy widow of Senator Nixon of Nevada, who married Count Armand M. d'Aleria, 21-year-old organist, a few days ago, leaves it to her youthful husband to say.

"Certainly it was love," declared the titled young musician. "It most assuredly was not money, for I have plenty of money of my own. As for her appreciation of my musical skill, that was a factor in our friendship, but has no material significance."

"Yes, she gave me an automobile in token of my playing at San Francisco, but I could have bought one for myself. It is not a fair tale that I recently inherited money from a cousin in Barcelona, Spain."

D'Aleria said he knew nothing and cared less, concerning reports reaching here that Bertram Nixon, son of Mrs. d'Aleria, does not look with favor upon the marriage of his mother to the young organist.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN DUE IN LOS ANGELES SOON

CULVER CITY, Feb. 4.—Samuel Goldwyn, head of what is now the largest motion picture organization in the world, is expected in Los Angeles next week.

The visit of the president of the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation of New York to the West Coast studio at Culver City is bound to set the motion picture world in a fever of speculation. This is his first journey to the studio since the Duponts and the Chase Banking interests became financially interested in the organization and since Edward Wise, president of the United Cigar Stores, became a member of the board of directors.

During the past few weeks straws have been blowing that would indicate the coming of a veritable cyclone of activity. Recently Vice President Abraham Lehr, in charge of the West Coast activities, purchased an additional tract of land that now makes the studio holdings fifty acres and immediately work was commenced to prepare this for the erection of big sets.

In the face of these recent activities the coming of Samuel Goldwyn to the production center of this great organization is fraught with much interest.

SIX MONTHS I COULDN'T WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Me Strong and Able to Work—I Recommend It To All My Friends.

Bayonne, N. J.—"I had pains in back and legs so that I could not stand caused by female trouble. I felt so tired all the time, had bad headaches, and for six months I could not work. I was treated by a physician and took other remedies but got no relief. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me very much. I am well and strong and now able to do my work. I cannot thank you enough and I recommend your medicine to my friends who are sick."—Mrs. SUSIE SACATANSKY, 25 East 17th St., Bayonne, N. J.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for over forty years, and today hold a record for such wonderful success as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

CHANDLER SIX Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Europe Welcomes The Chandler Six

NOW and then you read something about "French style and line" in automobiles, or perhaps it's "the newest English idea." And some folks have gone across to get the newest suggestions.

Europe hasn't built automobiles for five years and Europe is crying for new cars and good cars.

America's style is Europe's style now.

The Chandler Six, popular in many other countries for years but kept out of Europe the past three years because of war-time prohibition of shipments, is welcomed everywhere in Europe now,—welcomed for the excellence of its performance, and quite as much for the beauty of its styles of body.

The Chandler, represented in the British Isles by Messrs. H. G. Burford & Company, Ltd., of London, was exhibited by that old established English automotive house, at the great Olympia Motor Show, and was "quite the sensation of the show," says a London cable. "Three hundred and seventy Chandlers were sold in two days."

COURTHOUSE NEWS

ASKS NEW BIDS FOR BUILDING OF GARAGE

Yesterday the Board of Supervisors revised its plans for the garage that it is to build for the county at the corner of Church and Sycamore streets, and new bids are to be sought. Bids received a week ago showed the lowest to be $39,000, which was nearly double the amount of the estimates.

Under the old plans, provision was made for offices for the county engineer. The new plan leaves out those offices. The supervisors are going to put up a building at the southeast corner of Sycamore and Seventh street in which the sheriff's office will be located until such time as a larger building, probably including a jail, is built on the south side of Seventh street, which in that block is little more than an alley. With the sheriff's office out of the basement of the courthouse, the county engineer and his force will have the rooms now occupied by the sheriff as well as those occupied by the engineer.

The small house now at the southeast corner of Sycamore and Seventh will be moved by the county to the county's material yards near Fruit street on the Santa Fe, to be occupied by a watchman.

Cotant Appointed
A. L. Cotant was appointed as a member of the County Board of Forestry to succeed A. E. Bennett, resigned. Cotant is to have charge of the issuance of permits for trimming and cutting trees on county roads in the fifth supervisory district.

The county board set aside $1,000 for the use of A. S. Bradford of Placentia in providing a county exhibit at the orange show at San Bernardino. A fumigator's license was given F. H. Sherman and a spraying license to J. C. Michael. The salary of the courthouse gardener was raised from $90 a month to $100, and the salary of the county farm and hospital superintendent from $250 to $275.

Declares That She Is Entitled To Interest In Land

Eugenia Forker has brought suit against Raymond A. McCarthy for a judgment decreeing that she has a half interest in 6.35 acres near Orange.

The complaint, filed by Attorney F. C. Drumm of Orange, states that the plaintiff and the defendant entered into an agreement for the purchase of the property. McCarthy made the first payment of $1000 on the purchase price of $9000. The plaintiff declares that $595 of the $1000 belonged to her. Since then, according to the complaint, the defendant has taken the ground that the money was a personal loan to him, and had nothing to do with giving the plaintiff a right to a half interest in the property. The property was purchased from Supervisor N. T. Edwards.

FUMIGATORS GIVEN COURT'S JUDGMENT

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams went out to Olive yesterday along with attorneys and litigants and looked over an orange orchard that was fumigated last year, and upon what he saw there and upon what he heard in the courtroom he gave judgment of $992.07 to Paine & Carnwall, fumigators, against J. E. Schumacher, orchardist. Schumacher had refused to pay the fumigation, alleging that the work was done in a careless and unsatisfactory manner.

The judge granted the fumigators the full amount of the bill together with $70.60 interest. The petition of Schumacher's cross complaint, in which he asked $1700 damages for what he said was damage to his crop by reason of improper fumigation was denied.

JUDGE UPHOLDS CITRUS FRUIT ASSOCIATION

By a decision reached today Judge West upholds the validity of the agreement entered into by the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association and L. C. Yoeman, a member. Under that decision, the member is bound by the terms of the agreement, and is subject to the penalties that may be provided in it. Yoeman signed the agreement as a member. He delivered 563 boxes of oranges elsewhere than to the association. Under the agreement, a penalty of fifty cents per box is provided as chargeable against any member who sells outside the association. Yoeman refused to pay the penalty, and he was sued by the association. The case was tried this week. The defendant's attorneys took the stand that the provision providing fifty cents a box penalty was not legally binding as damages. Judge West's decision finding that the agreement is binding is of much importance to the co-operative associations.

If one member could deliver his fruit to an outsider, all could do it. The strength of the association would be broken down if the agreement was found to be a one-sided affair.

LONG SEARCH OF 20 YEARS IS OVER NOW

Coronado Man Finds Health by Taking Tanlac—Sleeps Sound Every Night.

"I consider it a privilege to recommend Tanlac publicly, for it is the one medicine that gave me complete satisfaction after I had been troubled for twenty years," was the statement made to the Tanlac representative recently by Austin J. Clements of La Brea, Cal. Mr. Clements is a wealthy citizen, who for the past ten years has made his home in La Brea and Coronado Beach, resorts of Southern California, near San Diego.

"For the past twenty years I have been in poor health," continued Mr. Clements, "troubled with a bad case of indigestion. Practically everything I ate disagreed with me, and it was a study for me all the time to know what I could eat without being in misery afterwards. I had such a poor appetite that I had to force myself to take enough to keep me going, but even then I would get up with gas so bad that I felt miserable and nauseated for hours. At night I could hardly get any rest, and for years I have gone with only two or three hours sleep and when I did get any sleep it was very irregular. I was in such a run-down condition that I went around all the time feeling weak and tired. It is a conservative estimate when I say I have tried one hundred and fifty different medicines and treatments during these years, but temporary relief was all I could get."

"Shortly after I heard of Tanlac I became interested in one of the testimonials I read in the papers, and it impressed me so that I decided to try Tanlac myself. This is the truth, the very first dose I took gave me relief and from then on I could feel that I was getting better every day. In all I took four bottles and from that time, which was six months ago, until now I have not been troubled with indigestion in any form. I eat anything I want without any fear at all, and I am enjoying my meals. I go to bed now and get seven or eight hours of sound, restful sleep and when I get up every morning I feel just fine. I do not hesitate to say that I am in better health than I have been in twenty years. I am glad to give my endorsement to Tanlac, for it is the only medicine I have ever tried with entire satisfaction."

TENTATIVE DATE NATIONAL HILL APRIL 4

Declaring that the East—and the world, for that matter—believed the Capistrano hill climb a national event, admitted to be one of the biggest in the world, J. J. O'Connor, editor of the Pacific Motorist at Los Angeles, last night urged immediate action on the part of the Orange County Motorcycle Club in deciding the date for the annual event and securing of definite information as to whether the course could be secured for the 1920 contest. The club decided to handle the affair and Sunday, April 4, was selected as a tentative date.

Thirty-three of the forty-eight members of the new club were present last night at the meeting at Buck & Buck's motorcycle shop to complete organization. The "boys" are enthusiastic over the creation of the club and anticipate many enjoyable occasions as a club.

Officers were chosen and the club brought into official life, with three Los Angeles motorcycle enthusiasts present to help in the organization and swear in the officers. The oath was administered by Tennant Lee, an official representative of the Motorcycle and Allied Trades Association.

Ben H. Mayginitis of Orange was chosen president, Glenn Copeland of Santa Ana, vice-president; Carl Trumphy of Santa Ana, secretary; Kenneth Claypool of Orange, secretary; Henry Gaittan of Santa Ana, captain, and David Rouse of Villa Park, sergeant-at-arms. There were some spirited contests for the honor of serving the club as first officers.

The club voted to take over the management of the annual Capistrano hill climb, which heretofore has been conducted by the motorcycle dealers of Orange county, unless the dealers wish to continue its management. It is expected that the club membership will be quickly boosted to 100 and with such a body of men back of the big event it is certain to be a success.

"The East and the world at large have come to believe that the Capistrano climb is a national event," said O'Connor. "It is one of the best advertised contests in the world of motorcycle runs, and Santa Ana and Orange county have gained valuable advertising by reason of the contest."

"Whether or not the contest would be held this year, seems to have been undetermined as yet, and there has been some question as to whether it would be run this year. This club should take it in hand and pull it off. The climb should not be permitted to go by default."

Tennant Lee is an enthusiastic booster for the climb and said that if it was decided to hold the event and the date set, it probably would receive official sanction of the M. & A. T. A. Under the rules of the national organization there could be no cash prizes and no special traction devices used in the contest, except that an open event could be made as a side issue of the program. Traction devices would be limited to one-half inch chains or rope for the scheduled events of the national organization. The machines would have to be stock cars.

Big Advertising Value

The free for all, in which all kinds of traction devices are brought into use, is the big drawing card and the feature that brings thousands of motorists to the climb annually from all parts of the state and some from eastern points.

"The advertising value of the climb to Santa Ana and Orange county is inestimable," declared Lee. "Moving pictures of it have been shown all over the world, and I have seen the picture at eastern points myself, and friends in Australia have advised me that they have witnessed it."

Otis E. Hackett, member of the Los Angeles motorcycle club, and chairman of the hill climb recently held there, gave the members some advice, as gained from experience in the Los Angeles club.

O'Connor advised that as the big races in Los Angeles would close in the middle of March, it would be a good idea to hold the Capistrano climb soon thereafter, as many of the crack eastern riders coming to the Los Angeles meet probably would wait and participate in the event.

April 4 Probable Date

It was tentatively agreed that the contest will be held on Sunday, April 4, a committee to ascertain this week whether it is the desire of the dealers that the club should handle the run and to see the owner of the hill to ascertain whether it will be available to the club.

Mayginitis, Vivian Fenley and Trumphy were named as such committee. The committee will report back at a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

The Los Angeles club is arranging a "stag" run to Tia Juana next Sunday morning and Hackett extended an invitation to members of the new club to join in.

Los Angeles motorcycleists will leave Los Angeles a little after midnight Saturday night and will pass through Santa Ana between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Register was selected by the club as its official paper and members of the organization will be kept posted on activities of the club through its columns.

EXCLUSION OF JAPS IS AIM OF BILLS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—In order that the initiative measures being prepared by the California Oriental Exclusion League to prevent Japanese and other Orientals from owning or leasing land in California will be loophole-proof, and at the same time fair, Senator Inman, president of the league, has announced that he is asking the bar associations, chambers of commerce and prominent clubs in the cities to pass judgment on the bills before the initiative petitions to place them on the November ballot are placed in circulation.

"We are very desirous," said Inman, "of having these bills so prepared that they will accomplish the purpose desired with the least possible infliction of damage or injury to the Orientals, but which will in no event leave any possibility of loopholes."

Enlist Organizations

Inman said the league hopes to circulate the initiative petitions with the least possible expense, and to this end has decided on a plan of requesting organizations in the counties to assist in securing signatures. To place the measure on the ballot, 55,000 signatures are necessary. "Our plan," Inman declared, "is to allot a certain number of names to each county and then to divide the number among the various organizations in the county, such as the Native Sons, Native Daughters, chambers of commerce, labor federations, county associations, anti-Asiatic associations and farmers' organizations."

"Also, we will request the County Clerks in the respective counties to name a deputy to obtain signatures of persons as they register. I believe that by following this plan the required number of signatures will be obtained at very little expense and with considerable haste."

Soon In Circulation

Inman stated the proposed measure will be ready very shortly, and that every effort is being made by the league to place the initiative petitions in circulation just as soon as possible.

Gov. Stephens' refusal to call an extra session of the Legislature to consider legislation to stop the growing menace of the Japanese in this State caused the Exclusion League to resort to the initiative to get the desired relief.

MAKE TWO REPORTS ON CAL. JAPANESE

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Contrary to common belief, Marshall Demotte, chairman of the State Board of Control, declared today that the Board of Control is preparing two reports on the Japanese question in California—one at the direction and for the exclusive use of Governor Stephens, and the other at the direction and for the exclusive use of the 1921 legislature.

According to Demotte, the report for the legislature will contain data, such as information on the population of the Japanese in California, from the United States 1920 census report, and will not be completed for several months.

In the report to Gov. Stephens, said Demotte, will be embodied information specially requested by the governor, and which is not asked for by the legislature.

Demotte explained that it would be impossible for the governor, the board or anyone else to give out any information contained in the report being made for the legislature before it was presented to the legislature itself. While Gov. Stephens, in an interview to a Los Angeles Times representative, which the governor has stated was correct, declared he believes the report of the Board of Control "will be ready within a comparatively short time," Demotte declined to say when the report will be ready. He explained the report is a confidential matter between Gov. Stephens and the board members. However, the fact that Gov. Stephens has publicly stated the report will be ready in a short time, and in view of the fact he is constantly advised as to the progress of the report, indicates the Board of Control's special report soon will be in the governor's hands.

REGISTERED OWNER OF AUTO IS LIABLE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 4.—In a case where there are two owners of an automobile—the so-called legal owner and the registered owner—the liability in case of an accident attaches only to the registered owner of the car, according to a decision made by Attorney-General Webb of California.

APIARISTS WILL HEAR EXPERTS ON GROWING OF BEES

Problems of Honey Industry to Be Presented at Orange Meeting

The Farm Bureau will turn its attention next week to the honey industry of the county. The farm advisor has called on several noted apiarists to speak to the bee men. The program will be for professional and amateur keepers.

A good social time during the noon hour will give the people from various parts of the county an opportunity to get acquainted. A morning and afternoon program has been arranged and everybody will bring basket lunch for the noon hour. "No one interested in bees can afford to miss this meeting," says Farm Advisor Wahlberg.

The meeting will be held at the South Center street school at Orange, Monday morning, February 9, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

After the addresses and discussion a "foul brood" demonstration will be given by Prof. G. A. Coleman in M. S. Ratliff's apiary nearby. Everybody is invited to attend this meeting.

The following is the day's program:

10:30 a. m.—"The Farm Bureau," H. E. Wahlberg; "Bee Diseases and Their Control," Prof. G. A. Coleman, U. of C.

12:00 m.—Basket lunch; social time.

1:00 p. m.—"Foul Brood in Orange County," J. E. Pleasants, County Bee Inspector; "Preparing for the Spring Honey Flow," J. D. Bixby, Editor "Bee"; "Queen Breeding," Mr. Pritchard, of A. I. Root Co.; "Extraction and Comb-Bondation," J. T. Calvert, of A. I. Root Co.; Round Table Discussion and Questions, Roy Bishop, Secretary of Bee Club.

2:30 p. m.—Demonstration of Foul Brood Controls at M. S. Ratliff's apiary, near school.

MANUAL RELATING TO ANIMAL INDUSTRY OUT

The division of animal industry recently compiled laws prescribing jurisdiction of the division, together with many miscellaneous acts indirectly related to its activities and enforced by other state officers, such as those relating to cruelty to animals, herding and grazing of livestock, fencing, pasture and trespass laws, commercial feeding stuffs, etc. This is the first time that such a compilation has been made and it is believed that this will prove a convenient manual for all persons who are interested in legal matters pertaining to animal industry. It will obviate the necessity of having numerous individual acts and laws in one's possession which might become mislaid or lost.

Copies of this manual may be procured by addressing State Department of Agriculture, Division of Animal Industry, Sacramento.

Regional Board To Have Meeting At El Centro Monday

A meeting of the regional directors from Orange, Riverside, Los Angeles, San Diego and San Bernardino counties has been called for Monday, Feb. 9, to convene at El Centro, Imperial county.

H. B. Woodrugh, of Harper is regional director from Orange county. Other directors, including the Farm Bureau president, W. Dean Johnston, expect to make the trip in the interests of the Farm Bureau.

This is preliminary to the state conference which will probably be held some time in April. Several important issues will be taken up at the El Centro meeting, including labor, water conservation, the Japanese question and legislation. Orange county delegates are primed for issues and will look to the interests of the Orange county farmer in their recommendations to the state federation.

FARMERS OUGHT TO USE HEADS MORE, SAYS W. A. DYER

West Orange Center Elects Officers at Big, Interesting Meeting

"Farmers should use their heads more," said Walter A. Dyer, newly elected president of the West Orange Farm Center, speaking to members of the center who gathered at the home of Fred Schleuter on La Veta avenue for the annual election. Don't let the other fellow do all the thinking and scheming. Farmers have been hanging apart too long."

The meeting was one of the largest ever held by the center. The house was filled to overflowing. The election of officers resulted as follows: James Smiley, director; W. A. Dyer, president; Dr. J. L. Stephenson, secretary-treasurer.

Many of the members entered into discussion of a closer co-operation between the farmers of West Orange and the county in general.

Dyer, newly elected chairman, made some pertinent statements about the laxity on the part of the farmer in taking any interest in the big affairs of the country which directly affect the producer.

W. L. Grubb discussed at length the possibilities that are within the grasp of the farmer in the Farm Bureau Organization.

"I have watched the Farm Bureau in Orange county grow from its very beginning," he commented. "At first it did not receive very enthusiastic support from the farmer here, except as it was urged as a war measure. But now it has grown to a large, healthy organization with a definite purpose. It pleases me, as one of the fathers of the movement in Orange county, to note the splendid growth it has made. It is not an outside organization thrust upon us, but a body of our own farmers, who are the Farm Bureau. There is no limit to what we as a body of farmers or producers can do in this county, state and national federation. It is up to us individually to help the cause collectively."

Many of the members present expressed themselves on the opportunities offered by their affiliation with the great Farm Bureau movement. It was the sentiment of all that the West Orange Center should have local field plots and demonstrations to study the numerous orchard problems on their particular soils.

A vote of thanks was extended Mr. Schleuter for his hospitality as a host.

WILL SHOW RESULTS IN SWINE BREEDING

With the aid of the extension loan fund which has been created by public spirited citizens of North Carolina for financing worthy boys and girls in raising pure-bred live stock, various county agents in that state are conducting demonstrations in swine breeding which promise to be particularly convincing to farmers in the localities concerned because the demonstrations are to be carried on largely by residents of the neighborhoods.

The method being followed is for the county agent to select a promising boy or girl in each of several districts who will agree to raise a sow for a given period.

After a four-acre plot suitable for the demonstration has been decided on and plans have been completed for improving it, an approved note is given by the youthful stock raiser to cover the purchase price of a sow, the cost of fencing, seeding and erecting one or two colony houses. The pig and the improvements are then purchased with money advanced from the extension loan fund.

The plan contemplates raising pigs to the age of eight months. All animals used in the demonstrations are to be purebreds. The first North Carolina farmer to whom this proposal was presented instantly agreed to co-operate and set aside for his child four acres near the highway along which many people pass.

The tract is to be fenced this winter according to the most approved methods and provided with a model self-feeder and an automatic waterer. A registered Poland-China sow will take possession early in the spring and will farrow a March litter in her new quarters. It is confidently expected that in this demonstration, as in the others being arranged in various parts of the state, the selected animals will pay all the expenses, including fencing and seeding, the first year.

A Quinine That Does Not Affect Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE (Tablets) can be taken by anyone without causing nervousness or ringing in the head. There is only one "Bromo Quinine." E. W. GROVE'S signature on the box. 30c.

STAND ON JAPS IS SUBJECT OF TALKS BY LA HABRANS

Resolution to Disapprove Directors' Action Fails to Carry

At a meeting of the La Habra Farm Center, several farmers came to the defense of the Jap, and declared that the directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau had made a mistake in refusing to allow Japanese to become members of the bureau. However, a resolution disapproving the action of the Farm Bureau directors was lost by a big majority.

The Japanese discussion vied with discussion on the good roads question at the meeting, at which about 100 farmers and their wives were present.

La Habra Farm Center started the new year in a real Farm Bureau fashion.

New members were welcomed to the center with a lively program and plenty of refreshments.

W. L. York reported that the proposal for a County Road Bond issue is practically dead.

"As it takes over a dollar to construct fifty cents worth of roads now," York said, "I think the county will be justified in taking a more conservative attitude on this road extension. When the coast road is put through, the county will be called upon to bond or tax to the amount of approximately $600,000 for bridges on this road, so it behooves us not to bond ourselves to the limit."

Discusses Taxes

"Another scheme has been suggested as a substitute for the bonding," he continued, "by which roads may be built by an extra blanket direct tax of 20 cents, but unfortunately this plan puts a double burden on the farmer, who has to pay the regular road tax besides. The municipalities should bear a greater proportion of the road tax because they are as much if not more dependent on good roads than the farmer. The city is based on rural development. I do not think the farmer will approve of the double tax scheme."

Several members intimated that as Orange County already leads the state in good roads the county could afford to hold back for a time till things are more settled.

The Japanese question was thoroughly argued pro and con. A number of members thought the Farm Bureau Directors were unfair to the Japs in excluding them from membership in the Bureau.

"We have the Jap here with us," said Mr. Thomas, "and it is up to us to educate him and raise his standards. No law, state or federal, can rescind the citizenship of those Japs already born and raised within this country. The question is how to make them the best American citizens. It is well enough to enact laws excluding further immigration, but now we must take care of those that are with us. The Farm Bureau could help raise their ideals and morale to the plane of the American."

Bishop's Views

"This race question," said Bishop, "resolves itself down to Darwin's theory—the survival of the fittest. We Americans have a lot to learn from the Jap. We must concede that he excels in thrift. You complain about the Japanese women working in the field and doing an honest day's work, but I am here to say that if some of our young women would be more industrious along useful lines instead of partying up and down the street in their silks and satins, powder and paint and making themselves look pretty instead of useful, we would have a fitter race. If the American people would so conduct themselves as to become a strong and vigorous race, respect work instead of shun it, I say we would need to fear the Jap, German or any other people."

"What we need is missionary work among the white people," he continued, "the people who rent and sell to these Orientals—the cause of the evil is with the white man, not the Jap."

M. J. Pickering submitted a set of resolutions disapproving the action of the Directors to exclude Japanese from the Farm Bureau, but they were lost by a large majority. W. L. York, director for La Habra Center, explained that the directors took this action anticipating its influence on later legislation.

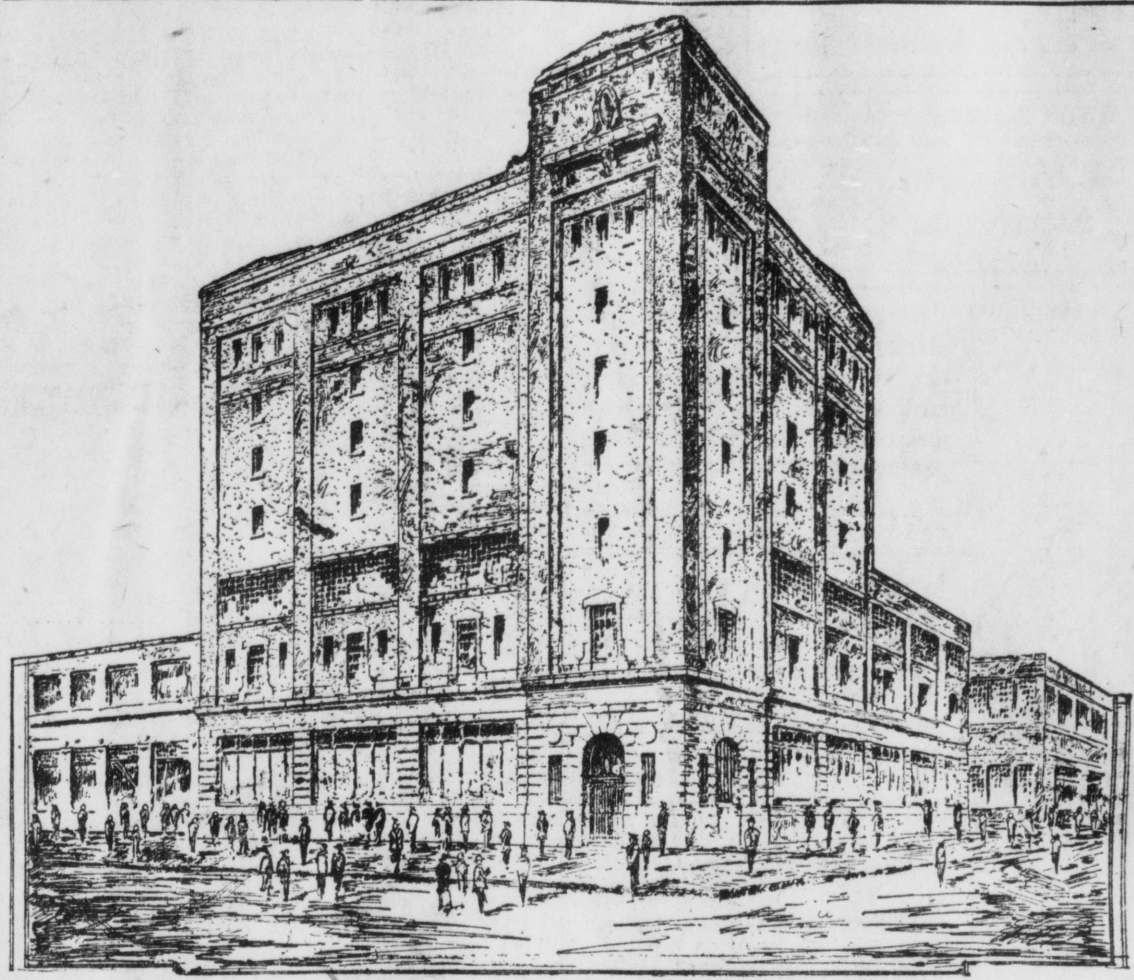

"If the Farm Bureau tolerated Oriental membership," he said, "it would materially weaken our argument for important constitutional legislation when it comes before the solons at Washington."

Officers Chosen

The following officers were elected for the year: Director, W. L. York; Vice-Director, J. J. Sargent; President, H. E. Hibbs; Vice-President, A. G. Lauer; Secretary-Treasurer, M. J. Pickering.

The success and permanent future of the La Habra Farm Center is assured. With its officers alive to the possibilities lying dormant, this center promises to be one of the strongest in Orange County.

Walnut Growers Of State Are To Put Up Building, Cost $250,000

First Duty Of The Farmer Is To Become Powerful

"For fifty years the U. S. Department of Agriculture has taught us how to fight the chinch bug, the army worm, the boll weevil and all insect pests; how to fight drouth, and how to come out a conqueror, but until within a few years it has never taken thought to solve for the farmer his economic and business problems," said C. S. Vrooman, when assistant secretary of his department.

"Now it has a bureau of markets to work on all the problems that the farmer has to face in his fight with the usurer, the fake middleman, the transportation shark and the human pests that feed off the profits of the farmers' business dealings."

The farmer has only one enemy, and he has many friends. Every honest producer of wealth in this country is the farmer's friend.

Everybody is the friend of the powerful. Few are the friends of the weak. So it is the first duty of the farmer to become powerful, powerful through organization.

Nut Cracking Equipment To Be Feature of New Structure

The California Walnut Growers' Association, with which the walnut co-operative associations of this county are associated, has completed plans for the construction of a $250,000 building for use by the association. The building is to be erected at the corner of Seventh and Mill streets, Los Angeles.

The building will be of Class A construction, reinforced concrete, 7 stories high, on a site 100 by 150 feet. The site was bought a short time ago for $45,000.

The association managers expect to have the building finished and machinery installed by the opening of the next walnut season.

The present estimations of the cost of structure alone are $167,000. The cost of installing the labor-saving devices when the building is finished is figured at $25,000, making a total of $237,000 for the chief items of construction.

The building will contain 90,000 square feet of floor space.

It is the intention of the association to run the building to a height of seven stories on Seventh street for seventy-five feet, the remaining seventy-five feet on Mill street being carried up three stories, with a basement. By converting the third floor into a meat-sorting room the necessity of conveying the operators to and from the workroom by elevator is obviated. The four stories above the third floor will all be used for warehousing and for the nut-cracking operations.

"At the present time," said Harry W. Lewis, president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' Association, "the central association is paying $20,000 for rental and drayage that it can escape by having a new building. We will pay for the new building in ten years, paying between $30,000 and $35,000 a year, covering interest and principal. That sum disappears."

DIPPING POTATOES BEFORE PLANTING OFTEN AN ECONOMY

Most of those who expect to grow potatoes this summer are planning now on their planting, getting the ground ready and the tubers in shape for burying. It is suggested that all who have good moist ground available plant potatoes for there is little reason to believe that the price will not remain high with the crop as short as it is in many places.

Before planting the potatoes should be treated. They should be dipped in a solution to kill all disease. It has been demonstrated often that failure to do this has resulted in great loss to the growers when a little trouble would have saved this.

Dip your potatoes in a solution of one pound of formaldehyde to thirty gallons of water. Leave them in this solution for about two hours and the work will be done.

BUARD DISTRICT IS ORGANIZED AND READY TO GO AHEAD

Demonstration Is to Be Given at Johnston Ranch Saturday This Week

Farm Advisor Wahlberg will discuss these questions that come so often to his office, at a Farm Bureau Drainage Demonstration to be held at W. Dean Johnston's ranch, 3 miles west of Garden Grove next Saturday afternoon, Feb. 7, at 2 p. m.

At this time there is considerable interest taken in drainage projects and the reclamation of alkali. There are three districts in the process of forming—the Garden Grove, Buena and Cypress, embracing an area of thousands of acres. The Farm Bureau has devoted considerable time and effort in pointing out the benefits of drainage and assisting in the preliminary organization work of these districts. Drainage engineers and experts have been called in from time to time to look over the field and explain the legal and technical features of drainage districts.

Every farmer interested in drainage is invited to attend this field demonstration. A tile-laying machine will be seen in operation, and the actual work of surveying, digging, tiling and covering will be studied.

W. Dean Johnston, president of the Farm Bureau, at whose ranch the demonstration will be held, is a firm believer in drainage. He has studied and watched the results of ditching and tiling for years in the Westminster district, and was a director of the Westminster drainage district. Several farmers of the lower part of the county will relate their experiences in drainage.

The Buena Drainage District is now a reality. Yesterday the petition of that district, organized under the direction of the Farm Bureau and by committees chosen through the Farm Center, was granted by the Board of Supervisors and early action toward securing the drainage district want is certain.

Under the law used for this district, the management of the district is up to the Board of Supervisors. It will raise the money from the district, let the contracts and see that the drainage system is properly put in.

USE TOBACCO SPRAY IN KILLING CABBAGE LICE

For lice on cabbage spray with tobacco extract, using the ordinary commercial extract, diluted according to directions on the container, or one may prepare his own by steeping tobacco stumps or refuse tobacco. Perhaps equally as good results may be had by using tobacco dust diluted with, say, 50 per cent kaolin or hydrated lime, scattering freely over young cabbage plants.

THE WALLIS

Is The Most Economical Tractor on the market today

It is built of the best materials money can buy. This means long life for the tractor. It is light weight, but of rigid construction, and TIMKEN roller bearings reduce friction to a point so that 75% of the power developed by the motor is delivered at the draw bar.

When buying a tractor there are several things to be considered:

What is the first cost?

How many years will it last?

What will it cost for repairs?

What will it cost per acre to plow, etc., for oil and fuel?

How much time is lost while tractor is being repaired?

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF to investigate our claim that the WALLIS is the most economical tractor manufactured.

Colds, Catarrh, Roup in Chickens Are Discussed By University Experts

"Colds, Catarrh and Roup in Poultry" is the subject of a valuable bulletin just issued by the Poultry Division, University Farm, at Davis, Cal. The bulletin discusses the causes of these diseases, and suggests methods of prevention and cure.

The bulletin says that among the most common head troubles of fowls are colds, catarrh and roup. Colds start with an inflammation of the mucus membrane of the nasal passages which causes a discharge from one or both nostrils. This discharge is at first clear and watery but as the disease advances into the so-called catarrhal stage, it soon becomes cloudy, sticky, may contain yellow flakes and has a tendency to clog up the nasal passages and thicken into a cheesy mass.

The accumulation of this yellowish, cheesy material in the nasal passages produces a marked swelling of the head beneath the eyes and this is the stage of the disease commonly called "swelled head" or "roup." The inflammation may extend from the nasal passages to the mucous membrane of the eyes and throat, producing first a reddening and later the formation of masses of cheesy exudate. Other symptoms are wheezing, coughing, breathing with open mouth, etc. These latter symptoms are especially noticeable when fowls are roosting at night.

Acute distress in breathing is often caused by the collection of rather firm masses of cheesy material just inside the opening into the windpipe. Cheesy material in windpipe may result from colds, canker in association with chicken pox or as a result of some foreign material becoming lodged in windpipe opening. Draughty Houses. Draughty and poorly ventilated houses are probably two of the most common causes of "colds" and "roup." Badly located openings, cracks in rear wall of house back of roosts, etc., permit draughts to blow on the fowls at night and cause them to "catch cold." Fowls are more susceptible to catching "cold" at night than while actively exercising during the day time.

Full colds among pullets are commonly produced by housing the growing birds in so-called roosting houses and crowding each house with the largest number of birds such a house, filled with roosts from rear to front wall, will hold. What is the result? The house is perhaps small. The ventilation is poor either because the ventilator openings are too small or because the owner closes the house up rather tightly at night in the mistaken notion that the cold night air will chill the birds. The moisture and heat given off by the breaths and close packed bodies of so large a mass of birds in such confined quarters causes the temperature and humidity of the air in the house to rise rapidly during the night. Daylight is the coldest hour of the day and in the fall it is decidedly crisp at this hour.

No matter how cold it is, however, fowls "get up" at daylight. Imagine then the effect on the fowls emerging from the close, fetid atmosphere of such a crowded, poorly ventilated roosting coop at daylight into the chill, crisp out-of-doors. Is it any wonder they become chilled and sit around the yard in huddled bunches for an hour or two till the sun warms the air up? Is it any wonder that fowls housed in such a way catch cold and develop epidemics of roup? Have you ever entered such a roosting coop an hour before daylight? If you have, would you call it a health-promoting atmosphere? Many valuable things can be learned about poultry raising after dark. Dampness, such as damp floors, etc., is also a prolific cause of "colds" and "roup."

Prevention Important. In dealing with "colds" and "roup," PREVENTION is more important than CURE. In well managed and cared-for flocks, these diseases are never sufficiently prevalent to cause much concern. Therefore, it can readily be seen that PREVENTION is COMPARATIVELY SIMPLE. If houses are so constructed as to be FREE FROM DRAUGHTS, WELL VENTILATED to provide plenty of fresh air, are not OVERCROWDED, are kept dry and clean, and the fowls are FED PROPERLY, very little trouble with "colds" and "roup" will be experienced. General sanitary precautions which apply to ALL INFECTIOUS diseases apply also to "colds" and "roup." These consist of cleanliness at all times and proper disinfection of houses, yards, drinking vessels and feed hoppers; immediate isolation from the rest of the flock of all sick birds; immediate removal and destruction by burning of all dead birds; the quarantining for at least two weeks of all new stock and stock exhibited at poultry shows, before turning them with the rest of the flock.

Bad management will greatly increase the menace from colds and roup when once started, whereas intelligent management will aid greatly in bringing the disease under control. This disease can be largely prevented by providing dry, comfortable, well ventilated houses free from draughts and by breeding constantly for health and vigor.

To treat affected flocks immediately administer epsom salts dissolved in water at the rate of one pound salts in six quarts water for each two hundred birds, fifteen weeks to six months of age, or the same amount for each one hundred five birds over six months old. Give this solution as a drink about 2 p. m. and allow fowls no other water till all of the salts solution is consumed.

Use of Green Feed

Also give, in addition to regular morning and evening feeds of scratch grain, an abundance of green feed and a rather bulky mash containing 1 ounce of the following tonic to each 5 pounds of mash. This mash may be fed dry in self-feeding hoppers. In a cold or damp or otherwise unfavorable weather, an additional scant feed of this mash fed in a dampened, crumbly condition can advantageously be fed at noon. If possible, use buttermilk to moisten this crumbly mash and add finely cut tender greens or roots.

Puritized gentian 1 lb.
Puritized ginger 1/4 lb.
Puritized salt petre 1/4 lb.
Puritized iron sulphate 1/4 lb.
Puritized nux vomica 1/4 lb.

Feed this tonic ONLY as long as is necessary to clear up the colds or catarrhal condition.

Put potassium permanganate in all drinking water during period of treatment. Use just enough to give water a deep wine color. Potassium permanganate is an antiseptic which tends to prevent the spread of this disease through the drinking water. Buy the commercial and not the chemically pure drug.

Treatment Outlined

Except in the very early stages of "colds" it is usually necessary to isolate affected birds and to give individual treatment in addition to the flock treatment recommended above. Each bird is treated (1) by pressing the nostrils together between thumb and forefinger in the direction of the beak, to squeeze out as much of the discharge as possible, (2) cleaning out cleft in roof of mouth with absorbent cotton and (3) injecting pure tincture of iodine into each nostril and cleft in roof of mouth with a medicine dropper. Cheesy matter that may form in mouth, windpipe opening or eyes must be removed and iodine applied to affected parts. Repeat treatment daily till cured. Tincture of iodine will not injure eyes.

Among other remedies which may be used in place of iodine and which are quite efficient is the following: Olive oil 1 oz.
Salt 15 grains
Boric acid 15 grains Eucalyptus oil 5 drops

Physician Explains Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

Practical Advice on How to Help Build Up Great Strength, Energy and Endurance.

Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder by over three million people annually, Dr. Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.), New York, and The Westchester County Hospital, said: "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life."

It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all "run down" while at 50 or 60 with plenty of iron in your blood you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy."

The accompanying article of Dr. Sullivan should be carefully read by every man and woman who wants to possess perfect health, great physical endurance and a strong, keen intellect. Dr. Sullivan tells how to increase the iron in our blood and thereby gain greater physical and mental power, brighter intelligence and better health.

But in my opinion you can't make strong, vigorous, successful, sturdy iron men and healthy, rosy-cheeked women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old formula of transforming iron into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system, notwithstanding all that has been said and written on this subject by well-known physicians, thousands of people still insist on dosing themselves with metallic iron, and I suppose, because it costs a few cents less. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble then purchase Nuxated Iron in its original package which has this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nuxated Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron.

Manufacturers' Note:—Nuxated Iron, which is used by Dr. Sullivan and others with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the bowels, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

NITRATE TAKEN IN CROP MUST BE RETURNED

That orchardists must replace the nitrate drawn from the soils in crops, if the orchard is to continue to live and thrive, was emphasized in recent Farm Bureau demonstrations in Orange County by J. W. Nelson, professor of soil technology at the College of Agriculture, University of California.

"In many orchards," said Nelson, "but eighty per cent of the nitrate used by the trees is irrigated. Water is run so far from the rows that tests show four feet about the trunk is not wet during irrigation. This is therefore useless ground during the growing period. In the winter, after rains, this space becomes saturated and we have a 100 per cent growing area. But it is not then needed! Fall blooming often results from this stimulus to working roots nearly dormant during the summer. This so-called false blooming is highly injurious."

I know a citrus orchard that was badly affected with mottle leaf. The owner was advised to run water down furrows about ten inches from the trees. This he did and in six or seven years the mottle leaf had entirely disappeared, though the case was a bad one.

"If we do not properly handle our soils the orchard areas may be back in grain in 50 years, for that is the history of many orchard sections in other states," Nelson said. "A notable example. You must replace the nitrates drawn out by the crops. Organic matter must be introduced. Keep up the supply of nitrogen. Every time you plow or cultivate you lose nitrogen and in some way you must put it back."

Double Cover Crops. "Double cover crops will solve many serious orchard problems. After a winter cover crop is turned under the surface seven inches of soil shows a temperature of 120 to 130 degrees in warm spring weather. This is bad for humus, which is burned out through exposure, for heat oxidizes the organic matter and summer cover crops keep the soil cool and bacterial activity is good. Moreover, summer tillage is not needed and so the cover crop is not an added heavy expense. I know of one case where a reddish brown cemented soil was converted to a fine soil in seven years. In 48 hours the water would go down but 20 inches. Seven years later it would reach 48 inches in 24 hours. This was under double cover cropping and the soil was also doing its own fertility work. Where no water is available for summer cover crop apply barnyard manure if you can get it."

"Now that the farm bureau movement is so well organized we should hire a man to buy up all the farm manure in six or eight Western states. Maine potato growers are shipping it from these states and if they can afford to do so for potatoes we can afford to do it for our orchards. We should have it shipped in solid trainloads."

Care for Manure. "Care for manure, 65 per cent of the value of stable manure is in the liquids and this may be washed away. Also lime your soils. Lime being easily soluble is one of the first things carried away after soil is stirred. We cannot too much advise on experience gained at the state farm at Davis, for soils vary much and their amelioration is a local problem for each farm center."

"Plant cover crop last of August or early September. If no rains come, irrigate. If soil is hard and rains light lime will open your soil and a series of check dams or deep furrows will hold the water. Disc cover crops in if soil is double cropped, but if only single crop is used, turn it in deeply, one foot if possible. See that soil is filled with water during winter as a base for lighter applications during summer. Do not merely irrigate every 30 days or any other specific period if you have any choice. Use the soil auger to determine when water is needed. Cover crops may be of cow peas or vetches, alfalfa. These annuals are generally better than alfalfa, for the latter usually is harvested, though the deeper rooting is highly beneficial."

BUY 17,000 CASKETS FOR RETURN OF DEAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The purchase of 17,000 caskets, at a cost of $1,104,508 to be used for return of the army dead from Europe, has been completed by the War Department in accordance with its announced policy to return as soon as practicable the bodies of American soldiers buried in France, for interment in this country. The manufacturers were instructed to expedite deliveries.

The department also made public a communication from the Casket Manufacturer's Association of America condemning "any plan for the general return of the bodies as impractical, expensive and unsatisfactory."

"This association is not seeking in any way to establish a market for goods produced," the letter said, adding that the only purpose of the manufacturers was to facilitate a task the government was undertaking and to prevent a serious increase in the prices of raw materials used in caskets.

"Santa Ana's association will continue to crack its cut walnuts here, and to operate its meat-sorting plant. The directors of our association here figure that it is far better to keep the employment and pay-roll here. We distribute in payroll for the nut-cracking plant about $10,000 a month for a period of four to six months. The only other local association that has its own plant is Santa Barbara. There are few associations that are situated so that they can do their own cracking. They haven't the labor available."

"The big new building in Los Angeles will be used for general association purposes, the nut-cracking operations being only one department."

CONSOLIDATION OF R. R. LINES ANNOUNCED

Consolidation on February 1 of the Southern Pacific lines north and south of Ashland, Ore., under the jurisdiction of Federal Manager W. R. Scott is announced by the United States Railroad Administration. This change restores the organization of the railroad's Pacific system as it existed before federal control, and is in preparation for the return to private ownership on March 1. Since the lines were taken over by the government, the portion north of Ashland to Portland has been operated by Federal Manager J. P. O'Brien in the Northwestern Region, and the lines south to Oxnard and El Paso by Federal Manager W. R. Scott in the Central Western Region.

Federal Manager Scott announces the appointment of H. A. Hinshaw as assistant to the federal manager, with headquarters at Portland. Hinshaw was formerly general freight agent at that point.

BUILD UPON PROSPERITY

A TOP of every man's ambition and aspirations is the desire to own property—to construct buildings as a monument of his success, enterprise and thrift. Beyond these sentimental incentives there has now developed a still greater inducement—a more practical impulse—the promise of profit—the investment protection of a community's absolute need. This growing town has expanded beyond its pre-war facilities for factories, stores, office buildings, homes, apartment houses, garages, and buildings of all sorts. The men who supply these are meeting a real demand and demand insures a safety of investment. You men of money, now is the time to serve your community with the added and substantial compensation of serving yourself.

Perhaps you own a home here. Since it was built you have formed newer and better ideas of home construction. It isn't exactly your ideal house. WHY DON'T YOU SELL IT AND BUILD A NEW HOME—a home that exactly suits you?

You know that patriotism begins at home as well as charity. You're proud of Santa Ana. If you're not you ought to be. Well, the new home you build will add something to the attractiveness of the town and it will make room for another good family of boosters.

Start building NOW. And when you start, consult the dependable, conscientious business firms whose names appear on this page. They will be glad to furnish estimates and help you with your plans from the first foundation stone to the paint and the garden.

ROUND-ABOUT ORANGE COUNTY

THE REGISTER has assigned to me an interesting task. It is part of my work to visit the towns and go out into the "by-ways and hedges" to mingle and talk with an interesting people, who are making Orange county famous through the products of her fertile soil, in a climate unsurpassed; to find out what these good people are doing in the way of improvements in home-building and development of their lands; what they are thinking and talking about on social and economic problems—good roads, bond issues—everything that will interest the readers of this newspaper, thus bringing the people of Orange county into closer touch with one another. For, after all, humanity is one big family divided into nations, states, counties, cities and rural communities, each, directly or indirectly, depending upon the other, as the lessons and problems arising out of the great world war, have so forcibly impressed us. As a county, with great natural resources yet untouched, we can work together better if we understand each other and know what each locality is doing, or would like to do. By co-operation, we can go forward in the glorious march of Progress with a clearer vision and willing hands to accomplish the tasks that are set before us in this land of promise and fulfillment—a land of beautiful homes, schools and churches—all that inspires the soul to high and noble ideals.

Thus, Opportunity, with benign smile, beckons us ever onward.

BREA. In the northern part of the county, is a bustling town with all the enterprise and appearance of an industrial center, and is the key to Pomona and the great interior valley. It is located at the entrance of the canyon by the same name. The canyon is long and narrow, a passage way from the interior valley to the coastal plains, and was called Brea Canyon from the brea (meaning oil or mineral) which oozed out of the ground in the canyon. This brea, in the form of a thick tar, was used by the early settlers as a fuel.

"I can well remember," said Principal W. E. Fanning of the Brea Union schools, who, by the way, is a native of the La Habra valley, "when the whole Brea canyon could have been bought at your own price. My father owned a ranch just over that hill," and he pointed in the direction where oil derricks were so numerous I could not count them. "and when our supply of wood did not hold out, we went to the canyon for brea."

Incorporated in 1916

The town was incorporated in 1916. At that time the population was 700. In the three years that its destinies have been guided by a municipal government, it has doubled in population. An estimate, gathered from the unofficial returns of the present census, show a population of 1500. The present city officials are: Mayor, J. C. Sexton; treasurer, L. A. Saxley; clerk and recorder, Mable McGee; marshal, L. N. Hurst; city attorney, Albert Lauer. The president of the Chamber of Commerce is W. A. Culp; secretary, E. F. Hurst; treasurer, Harry Ray; board of directors, W. A. Culp, E. F. Hurst, A. O. Kolb, L. W. Hyde and H. B. Ruth. The membership is two hundred.

Will Erect a Building

The Chamber of Commerce will erect a suitable building at an early date, at an estimated cost of $5000, to be built of concrete, and to be used also as a city library.

"What do you think of the future of Brea and Orange county?" I asked Treasurer Harry Ray of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The greatest in the world," he replied. Referring to Brea and the adjacent territory, he continued: "Our greatest assets are oil and the future promise of the citrus and walnut industries. Where they have planted orchards they are doing remarkably well, and this upland is absolutely frostless. The oil fields are getting bigger and better. We are still the logical oil center of Southern California. The Oil Workers' union have a membership close to 900. Brea is the center for all oil well supplies, also machine shops for oil well tools."

Business Well Represented

All lines of business are represented. The La Habra Valley Bank is the artery through which the business life of the community flows. The president of the bank is J. C. Sexton, and the cashier L. A. Saxley. The bank's resources are $326,000.00, and the last statement showed deposits amounting to $300,000.00. "Oil is the principal business," said J. C. Sexton, president of the bank, "but we have the soil and climate as well. When irrigation is extended we can grow citrus fruits and walnuts, evidence of which can be seen where it is being used. Many irrigate their lands from wells, and the La Habra Water company is extending its system."

"What do you estimate the amount of building within the last year?" I asked.

"About $80,000.00," he replied. "About $20,000.00 of this amount was in business property, the balance in new homes. There is not a property for rent in Brea, nor has there been for the last year. There are twenty-five to fifty on the waiting list all the time. There is a general activity in the transferring of homes. I would judge that 25 per cent. have changed ownership. Those who are selling are building other properties."

"How do you feel on the bond issue for good roads?" I inquired.

"I favor every bond issue for good road purposes, no matter where, when or how, so long as the expenditures are confined to good roads."

"You would make a noble Roman, Mr. Sexton," I casually remarked. "The Romans, you know, were great road builders in their time, and history shows they advanced the cause of civilization with their good road policies."

"I am always for good roads," he said earnestly. "No greater monument can be built by man. I look upon the investment rather than the improvement. Every dollar expended perpetuates the wonders and beauties of our state."

Pay Roll Approximately $255,000

It is not many years ago that the oil operations in Orange county as a whole employed about 500 men, and the monthly pay roll was approximately $50,000. Today, the assessed valuation of oil properties in Orange county is $29,000,000, as against $16,000,000 for citrus properties. Considerably more than half of the assessed oil valuation is centered around Brea. The Union Oil Company alone, with offices at Brea, has 625 men on the pay roll, amounting to $30,000 monthly. In addition there are the Birch, Orange, Fullerton and Brea Canyon Oil companies. This vast pay roll from oil companies, together with machine shops, etc., flows through the channels of trade in Orange county. Oil operations are still being extended. The Union is building a new camp on the Morris lease. The Towell well is showing up good and big things are expected from this well. The Union has 100 wells and thirty drillings.

Schools and Churches

The first school in Brea was started in 1903, up the canyon, where it continued until 1910, when a frame building was erected more centrally located. The present fine, modern building was built in 1917, and Principal W. E. Fanning predicts that in 1921, it will be necessary to build an addition. The present building has ten rooms with an average of 35 pupils to each room. In 1914 there was an enrollment of 188. Since then there has been a gain of 39 to 35 each year. About $20,000 was spent in salaries, repairs and general expenses for the fiscal school year.

"You can quote me as saying," said Principal Fanning, "that the patrons are always ready and willing to co-operate with the school trustees and faculty in a personal way in the development of the school. The last year $1000 was expended on ground improvements. In shrubs, grass and plants of all kinds. We are now planning a tennis court." The schools employ thirteen teachers, with a total enrollment of 355. The grades taught are from the kindergarten to the eighth grade, inclusive. The following are the teachers and grades taught: Principal, W. E. Fanning; eighth grade, Mae Wright; seventh, Mae Money; sixth, Margaret Pfeifferle; fifth, Mary Grant; fourth, Oradell Moehlenrich; third, Anna Martin; second, Inga Riley; first and second (overflow), Della White; first, Ruth Loughboro; kindergarten, Imogene Pickrell; assistant kindergarten, Corin Dodson; manual training, Royal Hager.

The church organizations are: Congregational, Christian, Nazarene, Seventh Day Advents. The Christian Science church is represented in the community, but has no church building.

Improvements

Like all Orange county towns and rural communities, Brea is making a substantial growth.

"We are tremendously handicapped," said J. E. Collins, manager of the Brown & Dausser Lumber Company, "for it is impossible to get all the materials we need to push forward the many building projects that are being contemplated, and would start at once if materials and labor could be had."

Three brick buildings in the business section are expected to be started soon. One, a two-story building, 50x140 feet, with pressed brick front, has already been rented in advance, the lower floor for the post-office, and the upper floor to clubs and lodges. Another brick, 30x60 feet, one story, will be used for a tailor shop. And still another two-story building, 50x100 feet, is to be erected.

M. J. Hran, cement contractor, has the contract for 7,500 feet of cement walk. He is completing the sidewalk to the curb on both sides of the street on South Pomona between Ash and Date streets. On Orange and Walnut avenues, North Madrona, Birch and Cedar streets and South Madrona, 8,300 feet in all, has been contracted.

Finds Fault With Oil Companies

"If it were not for these big land holdings by oil companies adjoining town," said Mr. Hran, "Brea would soon catch up with Fullerton. Why don't they sell the land? They say they have tested the land and only found a mere seepage of oil. We ought to have citrus and walnut groves with homes on the land."

The Christian church people are building a parsonage on the lot next to their church property on West Ash street. It is a six-room modern bungalow, 30x55 feet, and will cost around $5,000.00. W. H. Swoap is chairman of the building committee and R. W. Walker, of Long Beach, is the contractor and supervisor on a percentage basis.

"We are building for the future," said Mr. Swoap. "We have faith in the future of this section of the county, and we are planning accordingly. We need a new church building, but we will let the old one do for the present, and when we do build, which we hope to do soon, we will build it right."

"What would a building such as you have in mind cost?" I asked.

"Not less than $10,000 to $15,000," he replied.

"Some think that these large land holdings surrounding the town are rather a detriment than a benefit to your town," I ventured to say.

"They are hindering our growth. These lands should be sold and developed into orchards. That's looking to the future. Suppose the oil supply would become exhausted; what would happen to us? Let the oil companies sell these lands, and let them reserve the oil and mineral rights if they wish. Sell the top of the ground at least, I would like to buy some of it myself."

Building Items Picked Up

J. C. Sexton has just moved into a handsome new, up-to-the-minute bungalow, costing $5,000.

P. G. Fackelman has completed a new residence on South Pomona street.

E. A. Gurley, on West Ash street, has a cottage in course of construction. Elmer Jameson, on the same street, has built a garage.

Harry Ray has under construction three bungalows on the corner of Cedar and Walnut streets. G. W. Wilson is the contractor.

Mr. Smith, a well-driller, has completed a new residence on Orange avenue.

An addition has been built to the Congregational parsonage and other repairs made to make the parsonage more convenient and comfortable.

Mr. Friedliip has completed a brick building on South Pomona. He has leased the building to the Rock Bottom stores. They are stocking up and making ready to open for business.

E. L. Allen has purchased a residence property on South Flower street. He has started to remodel the house and will make many modern improvements.

G. C. Wilson is building an addition to his residence. It is one of those additions that is larger than the original house and will be quite attractive when completed.

Mrs. F. H. Lester's new six-room cottage is nearing completion.

Boys and Girls Organizing

A great body of American boys and girls are now considering a national organization. They are the members of agricultural clubs, numbering over half a million children and divided generously among all the states.

Of course the actual work of clubs may differ with agricultural conditions in different localities. But their aims and ideals are the same everywhere. Their programs are similar; they are financed in the same way; county agents act as guides and directors. In many of the clubs the boys and girls already conduct business meetings, have properly elected officers and handle their affairs in a thoroughly competent way.

They seem now to have reached the stage of development at which continued efficiency means the fullest co-operation of all the various units. We may soon have, therefore, a national association of girls' and boys' rural clubs. Delegates to a national conference would have the advantages of travel and of meeting other boys and girls interested in the same big problems. Active club members are so proficient now in their own lines that they are able to profit by comparing their work and their methods with those of other clubs. Such a national organization should prove a great impetus to club work everywhere. Parents who still hesitate to share farm profits with the sons or daughters who have shared in farm responsibilities will have their eyes opened and their outlook widened by such an important organization. Most persons will wish the boys and girls all success in this new and broadening enterprise.

The Four R's

Agricultural clubs for boys and girls are rapidly becoming a powerful force in the land. There are now over 500,000 young people organized in these clubs, and as the work increases in interest the numbers grow. Parents are learning to co-operate and to let their boys and girls share in home or farm responsibility, not as the hired helper does, but as the younger partner in a growing business.

One usually thinks of these agricultural club members simply as competing for prizes in actual agricultural work such as hog raising, corn growing, gardening, canning, poultry raising, etc. They do all these things and more. At the same time they are developing along social lines.

The club emblem is the four-leaved clover, and all club work focuses on the four-fold life development—the head, the hand, the heart and health. Club members win their four H's just as Camp Fire Girls win their beads or Boy Scouts win their merit badges, by their own successful efforts.

The head H covers schooling, carefulness in helping to prepare a club program, health education, sex education, home reading, observation and other things which prove that the boy or girl has brains and uses them. The hand H of course goes for manual dexterity, ability to use tools skillfully, hardiness about farm or home and for worth-while objects actually made by the club-worker. The heart H is a more difficult one to win, perhaps, because it involves less tangible things—bigness of heart, unselfishness, cheerful co-operation, ideals, love of nature study. The health H is frequently a favorite because it includes the play side of life along with good carriage and physical condition. Team games, swimming, running, jumping and throwing are considered almost as important as sound teeth, correct breathing and other signs of bodily health.

This four-fold development for boys and girls is a fine thing for the future of the rural districts, where children have frequently been neglected in the past.

SIX VARIETIES OF PEANUTS ARE FOUND

Most of the so-called varieties of peanuts now to be found in the trade in the United States are merely low-standard varieties with new or local names, and there are only about six distinct varieties grown in this country.

This statement is made by the Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in reporting on experimental work with peanuts. This work has included methods of planting, selection of seed, improvement of yield, and cultivation and handling of the crop.

Selected strains of some of the varieties are being made with a view to producing those more particularly adaptable for definite purposes, such as the making of high-grade table and cooking oil or an oil that may be used in the manufacture of oleomargarine, and to some extent in making soap. Other purposes for which selections are being made are those adapted for human food in the form of peanut meal, peanut butter, and other products, and high-yielding strains for stock and dairy feeds.

THE UTILITY TRACTOR

ABSOLUTELY DUST-PROOF, OIL-TIGHT EVERY MOVING PART ENCLOSED

CALIFORNIA TYPE TRACTOR

It is easier and simpler to operate—requires but ONE operator, irrespective of the duties it is called upon to perform. It can be operated from the seat of the implement or of the machine itself, at will—no extra man is required. Anyone can operate it, man, woman, boy or girl, it is so simple—no shifting of gears or numerous foot pedals and levers required—THE ENTIRE CONTROL IS CENTERED IN ONE LEVER, located directly ahead of the steering wheel. Another big factor contributing to the ease of handling and economy of operation of the Kardell "Utility" is its light weight for a tractor of its power and sturdiness—weighs only 2,600 pounds, and turns on a 19-foot radius. The lightness of weight and flexibility is the result of a perfected design.

NOTE QUICK-DETACHABLE LUGS AND SPECIAL WHEEL CONSTRUCTION

The wheels themselves are constructed of rolled steel tires, with spokes riveted to cast steel hubs. Another practical feature is that the rear wheels are adjustable—they can be reversed when desired, so that their widths is reduced from 56 inches over all to 40 inches over all. Practical location of the belt wheel—direct drive to the belt pulley; so placed as to be easily lined up for any belt work and to permit the quick and easy tightening or slackening of the belt by simply backing or driving forward of the tractor.

Kardell "Utility" tractors are equipped with these special patented, quick-detachable lugs. These can be attached or detached with slight effort, and in a fraction of the time required to put on or take off any other variety of lug, as you can easily see.

Can't Rear or Fall Over on Operator—Always Safe to Operate

The hitch of the Kardell "Utility" is located a full seven inches below the center of draft line, obviating all tendency or possibility of the front end lifting from the ground at any time.

Furthermore, the I-beam type front axle is so mounted as to allow a free oscillatory movement that permits it to assume any position rendered necessary by the operation of the tractor in and out of furrows, over obstructions or uneven surfaces—without placing strain or stress on the motor case.

In addition, a helical spring is mounted in a position to relieve and absorb sudden shocks—protecting the radiator and motor.

Specifications

Traction Wheel: Two steering wheels in front and two drive members, 48"x8" in rear having quick detachable lugs.

No. of Plows Recommended: Two 14" plows or their equivalent.

Dimensions: Length 98", width 56" with driving wheels reversible so that width reduces to 40" when desired, height 52", weight approximately 2,600 pounds.

Motors: Wisconsin, 4"x5", 4 cylinders, cast crank, Develops 25 h. p. at 600 r. p. m.

Fuel: Kerosene or distillate. The fuel tank which forms the bottom tank, is of heavy gauge sheet metal, generous capacity.

Lubrication: Forced feed on main engine bearing and splash system throughout, all gears enclosed in a dust-proof case and running in oil.

Carburetors: Bennett; with Bennett air cleaner.

Ignition System: Dixie high tension with impulse starter.

Cooling System: Water pump, Honey Comb Radiator with 10 gallon water capacity. The top and bottom tanks, side members and fan housing are of cast iron of sufficient strength to afford ample protection to the radiator core.

Bearings: Gurney ball bearings and Hyatt Roller bearings in transmission and differential, Hyatt Roller bearings in rear axle, Timken bearings in front wheels.

Transmission: Spur gear; both forward and reverse gears always in mesh, except when driving belt pulley; 15 to 24 on low M. P. H. Forward 2 to 6 on high M.P.H. reverse, final drive. Spur gear enclosed in a dust-proof case and running in oil.

Belt Pulley: 9"x21" 900 r. p. m. 2,600 feet per minute at normal engine speed, on front of tractor in line with wheels so that slack in belt can be easily taken up.

Steering Gear: Arranged so that tractor can be driven from the seat of the implement.

Clutches: Own; special type. Multiple Disc System on both forward and reverse. All mechanism enclosed in a dust-proof case and running in oil.

Rating: Horse Power 10-20.

There is no secret about Schilling Tea.

All there is to it is picking the young tender leaves, when they're full of fine tea-flavor, instead of the older tannin laden leaves, which are picked for common tea.

What you want is fine tea-flavor, and that is what you get in Schilling Tea.

You don't want the coarse tea-flavor of common tea, nor the tannin that is so bad for stomach and nerves.

There are four flavors of Schilling
Tea—Japan, Ceylon, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality.
In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages.

Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Feb. 4.—Miss Jesse Kirkpatrick of Whittier was a week end visitor of Miss Wanita Simpson.

The Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. George Thomas of Placentia on Thursday for an all-day meeting. It was formerly planned to meet with Mrs. Harvey Wierbach of Whittier, but owing to the illness of a relative, Mrs. Wierbach will be unable to entertain at the meeting.

All ladies with automobiles and all ladies desiring to ride will meet at the home of Mrs. J. F. Simpson and all start together.

Mrs. Frank Smith underwent a minor operation at the Fullerton hospital on Monday.

Miss Olive Sheldon of Long Beach is enjoying a two weeks visit with her sister Mrs. Paul Lutzler.

Roy Barnett had the misfortune to fall from his motorcycle and injure his ankle. He has suffered considerably as a result of the accident and will probably be laid up for a week or more.

Mrs. Howell of Ft. Collins, Colo., is visiting Dr. Schofield and family. Little Evelyn Knight, daughter of Reverend C. L. Knight of the Congregational church has been ill and suffering from a bilious attack and fever.

Start Street Re-Paving
Work has been started to re-pave Whitaker avenue. Mr. Atherton has been breaking up the ground with his tractor and operations will soon be under way to make a good street out of the chaos that has been reigning in the east end of the road.

Ex-Navy Officer Here
Dr. Frank Ashmore, who has been visiting relatives and touring Southern California for the past several weeks, has decided to establish offices in Buena Park. His temporary offices will be in the Warren block over the Scott and Frampton store.

Dr. Ashmore is a U. S. Navy Medical Officer of the 12th Naval division on inactive duty. During the war he was for a year Executive Medical Officer of the 12th Naval District Headquarters in San Francisco. Later he was Medical Officer on the U. S. S. Oriskany, a transport carrying troops between the U. S. and France. Dr. Ashmore has been looking over Southern California for several weeks and says that Orange county is the center of the most progressive district he has found and that Buena Park with the oil fields at her door and orange groves springing up all around here is sure of a great development.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mann and family made a trip to Rialto over Sunday where they visited Mrs. Mann's aunt, Mrs. Shaw, who is very ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. McCombs of Pomona has been visiting her mother, Mrs. McCarthy over the week end.

Fire Siren Arrives
The new fire whistle belonging to the Buena Park Fire company has arrived and will be immediately installed. This is a great improvement on the old whistle in great many ways, the principal reason being the electric attachment allowing the signal to run any length of time while the old system was connected with the air pump at the garage. When the air was exhausted if no one was present to restart the pump the whistle stopped. Much concern has been felt over the old system and much relief evidenced at the appearance of the new siren.

P. Rusk and son, Gerald Rusk, have returned from Perris valley where they have been for over two weeks. They will make the Rusk family a short visit before going back to the valley where they have taken two tractors and are farming over two hundred acres of land.

Real Estate Sales
Mrs. Hattie Allen reports the sale of the five acres owned by M. S. Knott to Arthur W. Byers of Brea. The amount involved in this sale was $8,000. She also reports the sale of five acres at Carmentia to J. S. Lucas, Lots 34 and 35, Brown Division to W. B. Elder and the house and lot on Tenth street formerly occupied by Rev. Fisher sold to C. S. Ledford for $3,000.

A lecture was given by Rev. C. L. Knight Sunday evening at the school hall. Scenes were thrown on the screen of the most beautiful territory in the three states of Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico. With the accompanying interesting lecture this was all very beautiful and instructive.

Don't forget the dance to be given by the Eastern Star on next Friday evening, February 6th.

Joseph Childers, who has had such a serious time following an operation, is able to be out in a wheel chair. Considering his recent condition his recovery is considered nothing less than marvelous.

The Masons have completed the store room erected in the rear of the Masonic temple.

R. H. Meyer is to have the well on his ranch sand pumped. He is also adding to the appearance of the place by tearing down the old garage and erecting a new one which can accommodate two cars.

A small fire caused some small alarm on Monday afternoon when a fire in the rear of the Scott-Frampton store burned a few boxes and barrels. The conflagration started from a small blaze built by a butcher in connection with his duties in the shop. On discovering the blaze it took Mr. Cunningham but a short time to extinguish it.

AT PRACTICE

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 4.—People of Laguna have been interested in watching the warships at target practice in the Catalina channel the past week. The ships and target are plainly visible to the naked eye and one can see the flash of fire from the big guns, when the shot is fired and then the cloud of smoke when the shell hits the target, to be followed by several jets of water, which are caused by the shell plunging into the sea. Several seconds after the smoke has blown away and the water settled, the sound of the shot reaches the shore. The detonations of the largest guns shake the houses and rattle windows like an earthquake.

Several hydroplanes have flown past, over the ocean lately, going back and forth between San Diego and San Pedro. Indeed, Laguna has quite a martial feeling, occasioned by big brown trucks, filled with Doughboys, passing through on the boulevard, warships off her coast and planes flying overhead.

The tides have been extremely low for the last few days and Sunday many people motored down to take advantage of the opportunity to go far out on the rocks.

"Billy" Willis III
Monday Elmer Jahraus took "Billy" Willis, one of Laguna's old time residents, up to the county hospital. Mr. Willis has been ailing for some time and upon the advice of his doctor consented to go to the hospital, where he will have regular care and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Whitten are back at the hotel after spending some weeks in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Waite, their son, and a party of friends motored down Saturday from Los Angeles and stayed until Monday at their house on the cliffs.

"Miss Emily White is back at her Arch Beach studio. She has been visiting her sister in Pasadena ever since the holidays.

Joseph Kleitich, who came to California from Chicago to do the portrait of Mr. Strauss, the New York and Chicago banker, has decided to remain in Laguna some time before commencing his picture and he and Mrs. Kleitich and their little son, Eugene, are domiciled in the small Edwards cottage on the front, above the hotel.

Mrs. P. C. Comeau, Miss Eleanor and Master Peter, have moved from the Breakers to the Giddings cottage above Sleepy Hollow for some time. They have been in this country only a short time, coming here from France.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Alwin Payne and Miss Evelyn went up to Los Angeles Sunday to stay several days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Handy and a party of friends spent Sunday at their cottage, "Echo Lodge."

Mrs. Libby Johnson and her son, Estel, have moved to Anaheim to live. Mrs. Johnson is Mrs. Handy's mother, and she and her son have been occupying "Echo Lodge" for some months.

Sam Hill's advertisement was the innocent cause of much cogitation, and finally a great deal of mirth in a Laguna Heights family last week. A member of the family remarked, "It says here, 'phone eleven-thirty' I wonder why."

"Why, I suppose they are busy and don't want to be bothered all the time," said one. "It must be because Laguna has only one phone and they keep that hour for Laguna orders," was the brilliant thought of the head of the house. At least ten minutes was given up to argument on the question. At last the matter was passed over and the one who "started it" beat a hasty retreat.

It read, "Phone 1130."

Word has been received from Helena Dunlap, one of Laguna's favorite artists, of her safe arrival in Paris, France. She writes of her visits to the various galleries there. She expects to remain in Paris a month.

Wintersburg-Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Feb. 4.—A wedding of interest to many in this community occurred last Saturday evening at El Monte, the contracting parties being Guerdner Nichols of Wintersburg and Miss Hazel Slack of El Monte.

The wedding, which was a quiet affair, occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Slack, at 7 o'clock. Rev. Chauncey, pastor of the Christian church of El Monte, was the officiating clergyman, the ring ceremony being used, in the presence of only immediate members of the two families. Mrs. Nichols, mother of the groom, and his sister, Miss Zedix, attended from here. The wedding march was played by Miss Mildred Slack as the young couple, unattended, took their position at the appointed place beneath a lovely floral wedding veil.

The bride was charming in a lovely creation of white georgette crepe with messaline; a flowing veil and wreath of waxen orange blossoms completing the charming costume.

A beautiful shower bouquet of freesias and brides' roses was carried. Following the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the Shakespeare Club house, where a reception was held, over a hundred guests being in attendance. Beautiful decorations were in profusion here as at the home, violets and ferns intermingled with white flowers forming a beautiful color scheme.

A dainty collation consisting of sandwiches, coffee, cake and ice cream was served, a beautiful large wedding cake forming a pleasing feature of the menu. This last was presented by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Freer.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple, who, following the acceptance of the many good wishes of their friends, slipped away for a short honeymoon motor trip to San Diego.

After the 15th of February, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will be at home to friends at Seal Beach.

Those in attendance from here at the Slack-Nichols reception were Mrs. Geo. Nichols, Miss Zedix Nichols, W. W. Blaylock, Misses Frances and Julene Blaylock, Chas. Blaylock, D. D. Gardner and Hayden Gardner.

Clinton Brush, who has been quite ill for a couple of weeks with a deep cold and the gripe, is able to be up and about again.

Mrs. E. M. Fox and her sister, Mrs. Wardwell of Huntington Beach, motored Monday afternoon to Balboa, where they called on Mrs. H. O. Ensign.

Mrs. C. Dimock has received a letter from her father, T. J. Lewis, written en route to Florida, where he went to visit his father. It was written at New Orleans and it was pouring down rain and no chance for sightseeing there, he stated. Later a telegram telling of his arrival was received, in which he stated he would cut his visit short as the flu is very bad there. He is expected back inside of a month.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Maddux and son, Albert, were Sunday guests at Buena Park at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Satter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fox and children, and Mr. Hoff drove to Los Angeles Sunday, where they spent the day at the home of E. A. Hoff, son of Mr. Hoff and brother of Mrs. Fox.

Mr. Reynolds has been quite ill the past ten days with something like the gripe, and on Wednesday Mrs. Reynolds became ill with the same disease.

Mrs. Mary E. Clemens and son, Reuben, motored to Orange County Park Saturday evening for a week-end visit at the Chas. Johnson home. Mr. and Mrs. Don McMillan and children also drove up for the day Sunday.

Bolsa Happenings

BOLSA, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Valentine Harding, principal of the Bolsa grammar school, has resigned, and Miss Hawkins of Santa Ana, has filled her place.

Miss Emma Warner of Bolsa, has just returned home, after a short visit with her sister, who lives in Arizona.

On last Tuesday morning a horse was frightened by a passing automobile and ran into the canal, taking a man and buggy. The man escaped with a few slight scratches.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Forney of Bolsa, spent Tuesday afternoon in Los Angeles.

The new drainage ditch a half mile south of Bolsa, is nearly completed. This is a cross ditch connecting the two main canals running south.

leader for the Lesson Study, which will be continued from the Home Missionary Study book started at the January meeting.

Mrs. William Davis was down from Los Angeles and spent Sunday at home. Mrs. Davis spends the greater part of her time in Los Angeles as she is a designer in a shirtwaist factory.

Mrs. R. J. Morgan, who has been suffering with scarlet fever the past two weeks, is steadily improving. Her throat, however, continues in a bad condition and her right ear is also considerably affected. No other cases of the disease have so far broken out in the family.

Mrs. Geo. Crane received a disappointing letter Monday from her brother, Lee Wentzel, saying that on account of business affairs he and his family would not be able to come to California now as had been expected, but hoped to come in July.

The family reside in Iowa and intend to make this their home. They will live on one of Mr. Crane's ranches if present plans are carried out.

The Dunning bean warehouse is now working a crew of about thirty women, ten more having recently been taken on. The new hands are principally from Taibet and Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graham motored Sunday to Pomona, where they were guests at the home of friends for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana entertained at Sunday dinner a party of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, sons, Arthur and Ralph, and daughter, Thea. The Morrrows were formerly Smeltzer residents but are at present of Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. H. Moore attended the opening services of the Sunday school convention in Santa Ana on Tuesday and heard talks on Armenia given by a returned Armenian relief worker and the Armenian pastor from Fresno.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis, formerly of Wintersburg, will be sorry to learn that the family have all had the "flu." Mrs. Rusk of Huntington Beach went the latter part of the week to Puente to care for them. Their condition was very much improved the last heard.

Mrs. Chas. Graham, Miss Lydia Moore, Mrs. George B. Crane and Misses Mary and Fletete Crane motored to Los Angeles for the day Friday.

Jake Grana made a business trip to Los Angeles Saturday. Dwayne Moore suffered a severe cold the latter part of the week which settled in the neck glands and affected one ear. He missed school Monday as a result.

Mrs. Ed Hyder has been quite sick and her condition was but slightly improved at the last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Graham spent Sunday at the J. J. Graham home, Ray Moore and Miss Jennie Clay is returning to Puente that evening.

A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

NOTHING that we could say would so thoroughly convince you of the value of Chamberlain's Tablets as a personal trial. We can tell you of thousands who have been permanently cured of chronic constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headache and disorders of the stomach and liver, but this will have little weight with you as compared to a personal trial. That always convinces.
